i am getting the hang of this G+ thing .... though i failed to (remember to) stop my page loading the first time and then the second time it wouldn't .. stop -- a complete load ... and my youtube associated G+ page ('RockSoiller' .. here like) is on the heavy side for a 1Mb processor box and so the full spread congests my box, avoidable .. specially if all i'm after is checking if it's topped off with fresh comments ... which in this case i like to pre announce cause they are good one:

G+ is really really clever ... ... in order for folks to understand they are in the merlin school .. durabilizing spirit, freezing your soul, preserving yourself into a Merlinesquely mad hatter crystalclarity world, the one of mirrors haloed and hollowed, tunneling through one echo chamber after another ... it lets you comment for your own page in the first place ... then if it's important enough you can go back and duplicate at 'originally posted' .. or do the short cut by beginning your sacrifice (yes google monetizes it's customers every bit as much as the prankstermantrap does; it doesn't threaten to steal your copyright up front .. and get away with it) +name method are youtube associated G+ accounts running a slower gear/tier than the primary page related ones? (i renamed my youtube channel way back and it migrated the lists and duplicated the subs ... then new subs only got added to new name .... but i'm not 100% sure on that; now they seem synchronized .. but again, not sure .. yet)

... that's why my ears perked up when the most unfunny (and pompously toxic) commentator, Webster Tarpley, in his condemnation of political clownery by the likes of Dieudo (France), Brand (UK) and Grillo (It), claimed the latter is against infrastructure (the connective, 'trafficking' type i presume). I didn't know that but pretty much agree, lighten up travelling and bear down heavier on the local lifting (see my thoughts on Wessel di Wesseli and Aldo Costa).

A liberated area means one free from violence, inviolate, protected and expanding very very carefully .. that is to say preventing frust among the have-nots beyond their fringe by giving hope to them, combining enforcement of inviolability for bufferzones - demanding respect for which is as easy as cultivating emergency pantries and deepening soil, slowing and stopping run-off; etcetera,- with this: careful recruitment, quarantine and reeducation; it's really nothing like too tough to realisticize propaganda and the commercial racket; open source it, stockupit, grow it and keep the compostability tests up relentlessly and very much in the public eye.

You think it's easy for me to say 'only' due to my lifelong (lonely) practice of hopping every such trainOfThought????? granted, the choice and use a point in history to function as a baseline is as fraught with arbitrary partiality as any,leaving out what went before as a cheap cover up trick. Most are/get picked in order to skirt around rubbing the wrong people the wrong way (and often in collusion with them). This vid is a case in point. None of the long tagline phrases mention bombs, let alone the hundreds upon hundreds of thousands of tons 'dropped' off by the demonic americans (and it's only gotten worse since then, they just 'change' location along their diabolicization campaign itinerary). i'd be available if you can provide a satisfactory answer to your placement of points 4 and 5 (of 6) characterizing the 'Q-permaculture' practice: rockdust and ORMUS

... I kid you not, someone did put them right next to each other.

Now, this obviously has to do with the fact my old pages --- centering around the use of rockdust ... as does one (out of over 50) of my playlists (which google, i am flattered and proud to be able to claim, places first with the phrase 'my crushing passion' - not sure if they feel flattered too .. but uncontroversial stuff is obviously robotized) --- were visited by 'Ormusiasts' more than anybody, going straight for the Philip Callahan one (a scan of the index for 'Paramagnetism' by him, whom at the time, Dan Winter was in touch with, claimed to have shot footage with ... which never aired AND PC disappeared for all practical purposes .. a huge disappointment to me; Daniel went on to, robotically, do what he always did, critical of Ormus by the way and pretty much dropping the dust issue).

A later Ormusite, the equally 'toxtec' obsessive (cause thinking nothing of it) Milewski mentioned Callahan but upon inquiry, had no particulars.

Now, other than Ormus ingestion being a copy cat story of the Schindele Saga some decade or thereabouts earlier i can't say i am pleased to find these 2 both rockrelated branches of wresting a blessing from dark places in such close proximity.

Smacks too much of fake rawfood folks like the superfood money making grubbers who grind antlers to boost their income. Zio and sino mind sympathies?

Or the other many snake oil scams .. of which i even suspect such way above average smart folks like Pat Flanagan too part, and more recently the entirely frustrating germophobe birthdate faker Bob Dobbs.

I mean it's just not common sense type of stuff a child's mind can grasp but more the magical thinking stage getting stuck and sticky with fabulous magic thinking properties turned cultically 'commodious'

Don't get me wrong; i'm willing to look at it more but for now, rockdust along with and/or next to ormus do strikes me as the type incompatible compostheaping and firewalking are ... the pyromania aspect of large rainbow gatherings always bothered me plenty; a giant clay/cobb / whipweave sweatlodge rather than a bare and open central fireplace ... geodesication over it a few stories ..... would offer plenny opps for economizing and ritualization .... but not even the most minimal of my visions (shallower wider and more compost as well as turd pits) came to pass. I'm not complaining though ... in fact ... after all ... yall are heah aintsja?? Welcome any time (near Rotterdam; i see the skyline)

The State's War on Sustainable Communities

> We must insist on land reform. The state is there to protect the rich and the rich want us as their slaves. When the People agree that it is their right to a free and fair share of the land and its resources so they can be self sustaining without state control we will have a land of plenty and of truly free people. The banks hold 18.6 million homes empty to "protect the market" while no one protects the homeless. There are 50 million Americans in poverty, that's less than 4 people per household in all those empty homes. We need to strip the state of its power to send swat teams to terrorize us over parking tickets. Free land = free people.?

you mean HOMEland reform right?
iow, stop the occupation and betrayal of your heritage without fighting certain evils closer to the root, the desert 'heart'lands.

Ps: clean-up of desecrated red ground will be a bitch.

pps: i'll be happy to follow you a ways ... if you hear a fierce whistle from some distance behind you be sure to check your 'evil root' detector works .. as follows ... a one, top one money is a crowning glory when all sluicage and tiering down the bottom rung/scale are navigable (see Ulrich von Beckerath and his pals, active in Berlin either side the second WW) but it becomes an aircastle as soon as they pull up the drawbridge and lose transparancy (BigBro's weak spot, do unto others ..)

When dealing with THE one (hegemonic / imperialist / violence backed) money, you could and one commonly does call this the 'root of evil' yet there's no such thing -- unless taken loosely, not quite partable from what nonprimary apartheid 'abstactious metaphorm' it can be given by arbitration -- since the latter hasn't any .. a quandary not quite so far apart from wether money can and/or needs to stand for and/or up for organic roots, nor from wether money can be quite evil, let alone 'the' hardest to unearth one of those, note: there's no 'monies are the roots of evils' in this respect for a reason, again, see UvB (or Bth as he paraphed himself)

Our Favorite Orgasms ..... the link i shared about an hour ago is these 2 ladies guesting at Christopher Ryan's podcast (about 30 of them, only name i recognize is Nina Hartley) so those 2 shows are not in the Zerzan ballpark at all (though RC has an interest in interviewing the latter), in fact ... these orgiasts, one over 80 display and exude .. i mean sound like venters of obsessive zealotry to the point of being creepy ... quite telling they insult colleagues as deficient and defective competitors, summed in the word 'cultic' ..... all of which discounts the frank, free and open attitude to sex (groupies of the disgusting kind). CR brings up his fave topic a third of the way through .. just before that outburst. What i saw so far is completely divorced from roots&leaves. I resent that.?

yare both missing the point ... hiv is as common as dirt ... hence transmissable ... to ask how occurance percentages compare - in general vs those with riskier / lower pecking order posish lifestyles - would be more sensible but still not indicative of aids contracting factor qualifications if any.

Still Report #178 - Ellen Brown 2
The scope of Bill Still compares only to that of Ulrich von Beckerath in my (limited) experience (though as yall can but fail to verify), i zoom in on essentials like (unfortunately) no other.
The Secret of Oz - Winner, Best Docu of 2010 v.1.09.11
United States Bankers Magazine 1892 quoted around the 1 hour mark -- as thoroughly [& brashly out in the open] criminal as a century before and after that point .. that speaks in favor of multigenerational permaculture therapy in huge county sized well guarded compounds beginning behind the izrule wall.
it strikes me that Bill is not not quite on the level with the Real Bill Doctrine, as twinned with tradable gold as day is with night, ... historicaly that is ... but ... gold is immaterial to the question wether a standard can be established or not ['luckily' .. if anybody cares to bank on mine. be my guest]
The fight is over an arbitrary top down peg or one that 'stands up' testable any time in truly distributed aggregate; value marked to price levels and priced to (the) traffic its market bears (out&about). I like the simpler levels this must be taken (to mean) even better, http://poetpiet.tripod.com/ guest_appearances /intro_to_currency_issues.htm lots of my warnings went unheeded over the last 30 years (concerning climate, food, chemicals, toys, a pacifism forcefully constructive enough to absorb the boys going bad - never got a chance to [pro- nor con)test the cut-off point.

I am just as depressed, disillusioned, dejected, and disappointed now as i was optimistic back then, see proof here:
http://poetpiet.tripod.com/guest_appearances/intro_to_currency_issues.htm still confident THAT work will remain sound enough to not need the maker presstituting himself for a jumpstart. You, Bill Still could as easily run with it and in a way, you owe it your comprehensive take on monetary history to have some sort of Real Bill Doctrine champion on even though choices are limited (and it might reek of Austianism too much to your taste ... dunno .. Sean Tite: +Piety Piet duh Pious Poet ?????????? Twisted ? Those are problems that are NOT solved by infanticide, do you agree or not ??
breaking rocks to make soil and allowing huge trees to help it grow deep isn't 'solved' by 'defense' missioning, (rather taxing) on a stay-at-home's pocket, way too far from theirs to not lose it forever, even if they do make it back ... although they hammer that scenario out in their recruiting deception .. but in reality, their rotten top down higher mal arckey causes the lack of pragmatricks to flesh out such ethics; it remains unperceived, let alone noted noticed and notorious as a problem -- except for the negligible jesuslike and making an example of their ilk evree nownden is good enough to quo the status -- a chance and mission they can solve, take and carry out; ... and, as long as that horror persists, infanticide would be a mercy killing, comparatively speaking.

A stay at home orgiasticult-a-yours like the bonobos are happy to practice, doesn't do the trick either and so it's up to demographically disciplined parties, bands, tribes, city states ... to work within defensible limits, federated as far and wide as a bird can carry an agreeably organic memory stick.

make officiation a calling of honour, one that is part-time, transparant and on a rotation basis ... like a pick-up game. It would stop all megalomaniacal displacement moves dead in its tracks. Public space voluntarization would localize and dissolve international tensions to the exact degree it can be handled 'reciprocatiously'. 'homo techonologicus'
He rifs for 2 hours on the Jungian meme (without actually mentioning it, but i did speaking to him privately way back when) that UFOs are flying womb chimeraes# though Peter reverses and grounds the whole concept .... he's almost in a grind state of mindbind (the reigning reign in carefully alloting the raining for moah betta fragrance don't Juno) but can't quite pull it off, not that far anyway.

Sloterdijk's 2 hour long improv touches on hand, stone, knife, greenhouse/womb portion and proportion ... but little on the in/out and micro management to reflect the macrowomanagement of embeddiment as i have come to understand feasibility .... though hormone disruptors -- like fast cars, screaming, guitars, fermented fluids, irresistible girls in ever more tantalizing and teazing as well as unattainable variety .. in close association with guns and gender segregations (besides the almost equally harmful ones by age, and ... any really) makes the mix turn out deadly if not unbakeable -- tend to bring my hopes down to groundlevel ... which is where i perhaps must start ... the tool of my redemption *(the rod i like to i {{still}} own AND possess the fortitude swapping my computer and all my books for) was topic of conversation with once safekeeper of all my stuff - my christian nephew who brought up 4 boys very succesfully but has been in a feud with his neighbours over the speed with which they take the steep hurdle common in dyke/polder country: a width of a truckwide run straight down the dike at S. .... which is all that separates their farmsteads ... about maintenance of which they differ mightily .. cracks in the stone work don't bother one party whereas the other (recycling construction material carefully and all that) are perfectionists. (16 court decisions and near violence later ... it's now his exclusive means of access). A local fighter.

... PS brings up a lot of unworked out themes in this, i suspect related to partially digested reverb from my meetings with him ... he takes the story of rousseau in the swiss boat as model for modern man, a mix of paranoia and trust this vid prompted me to go revisit a file i put online in 2000 (one of the first files i lost a few years later and prolly forgot to put back up; it's about the different forms of games and the gendered appeal of them).

CAILLOIS'S (1961) TYPOLOGY OF TYPES OF PLAY AND LUDUS
PAIDIA Tumult, Agitation, Immoderate laughter, Kite-flying, Solitaire, Patience
Crossword puzzles
AGON Grapple, Race, Wrestle, Box, Billiards, Fence, Contest, Sports and athletic practice
ALEA Counting-out rhymes, Heads or tails, Betting, Roulette, Lotteries
MIMICRY Masks, Disguises, Theater, Spectacles
ILINX scramble, Children whirl, Swing, Waltz, Mountain climb, acrobatics

.. needs to be crossed and quartered, blessed and sacralized, iow gendered a little more cleary

i was counting on this kind of stuff to immunize against the dangers of gambling and enable the page visitor to actually look at what i said ... instead of getting stopped and turned off from the get-go, an experience many an unforewarned and unwary visitor to the rainbow gathering might have should they approach it via the main access along which the 'A-Camp' (alcoholics) place themselves in order to panhandle and sorta kinda waylay supplies ... like pop-ups did during the first click-whore ad-wars.

Just ask yourself if hollywood (and mindless imitations) is there to warn and immunize ... or to infect, set bad examples, block and get in the way of good ones, pass out a little shock therapy??

I'll never know how many of my visitor were pre-empted, distracted to the gambling houses and homepages nor how many i saved via my Caillois citations, despite the pop-ups and their 'right of way' 'voordringerij' .... i never got letters or saw stats either way, no 'thanks for getting me there and there, i won a fortune', nor 'no thanks to you i am now addicted', and neither did i ever read: 'i'd like to thank you for starting me on such a rewarding hobby'.

Alas, my harnessing maid, update, overcoming aid, my 'responsibilitating' (=grounding) -x- of just exactly THAT surge creeping up on/in 3 quarters of all man- and 1 of all womankind, that ineluctable undeniable young man's urge ... just the other day i sensitive bear of a young man, flipped from lethargy into frenzy and died from police bullets -x- wasn't so genius and easy for all the world to see and so that gambling would be as totally 'unstaked' and voluntarized as 'porning' .. in tandem with it .. after all porn is the big 'aanjager' of digital penetration (security motivated siblings trying to {'nogal hijgerig'} keep rather than hold up) but the gamblers decided to invade and subvert banking instead (again, like A-Camp, .. kinda like nasty terrorists using women and children for hostages and human shields or to hind behind .. guerrillas with a just cause have an easy time of that of course).

Anyway, play is no longer play unless reversible, NO, instead of merely LO risk and the crossdivide side backing excercise, namely the mnemonic aspects (shape and fineness, totally tactile and for greening efficiency important info) are not the main thing, the spur, purpose and outcome of the natural course run.

the one mortar pestle thing i began with (though hardly used) hasn't received an update or progression through versions other than in my mind's eye (get another one, saw both in half and hook them to some raise and swing down mechanism via gears of halfsprockets enabling the multiple play rhythm effect all by my lonesome ... but it's obvious i get nothing done by my lonesome really ...)

Case in point appears to be some stuff i posted on a youtube vid where it is visible, yet not showing up on the G+ pages (can you block separately? Perhaps just backlog, posts and processing sluicage of such comes in waves ... so i'll be patient ..)

you mean day of 'CONtest' right??
how bout a life of protest instead or directly afterwards ... i envisioned the idea as a real possibility after some rainbow family experiences ... then Monte Venero happened .... the inverse of my Shell poem catalyzing awareness of corporate criminality culminating in the Ken Saro Wiwa execution not long afterwards?
Am i yet ever to be proud of a community i call mine or is that really too much to ask??
whadup apoclipsists and sundry saboteurs? Got no place good enough in the sense of collectively viable to call your own anymore either????

my book collection began with early tarzan novels, a Lytton novel i got in katmandu ... then hierloom seed catalogs in the US ..... what a farce to feel a devil's toy eh .. life's an evil witch sometimes and you cant help loving her when your mother is one enough to succesfully defend you from the hating arms race ..but she remained pretty much totally blind to the pharmaffiose 'authorities' and their weaponized foods, diabolic soaps, paints and cavity fillings to the very end .. or else she'd have become a saint before her death.

a gotcha 'good' guy moment in the last minute?:
"living out what we've been doing in fiction all along"
truth told?? .. dunno about your only one good guy (and not very many really bad ones either) scenario but it makes from catchy novellization from the inmaterritory of global empire; it lacks a green thumbness as much as a Pynchon book though the latter comes across as more realistic; you remind me of the 'fitting' theorizers back in the - Pim Fortuyn gunned down on the Hilversum mediapark by a leftie activist - days/daze .. it was all about him refusing to order the new US fighterjets.

No Thanks to Google (Derek Gee) -- 5 months ago -- 301 views he turned all the comments off (kind of an affront either way i feel) '+' he's lying his head off on this one, not that i like comments to stay hidden among notifications like they are but i can click the latter from my youtube page so i don't have to actually go any 'terrible' G+ page for that. Hahaah!! Looks like he got ads put on vids for which he borrowed heavily and liberally ... perhaps google uses that tactic to discourage the practice he says an 'acknowledgement' can make the ads go away again.
so .. is that a claim or a credit ... either way, he don't sound like so o so enlightened anymore ... despite his eyecandy and wise old men plugging (Krishnamurti)
'censored with ads' (iow, he claims folks will be deterred from waiting to get past ads {after the 'skip the rest' click} to the point of killing his views numbers???)

> U. v. Beckerath, ? 8. 4. 1949. Dear Mr. Meulen, with very great interest I studied - - this time with care - - the leaflet of Wakinshaw, "Prosperity for all!" The index-currency-party is an international party, whose "sub-parties" in the different countries are, probably, tied together by some international organisation. I do not pretend that the organisation is secret or that its internationalism covers aims that must fear the light of publicity. In Germany the party of index- money - - was very strongly promoted before 1933, but the Nazis prohibited it.

> False dichotomy. Poor, childish, sophomoric reasoning (she's an idiot, pandering); at the very least, Elliot Rodger clearly resented women. He may have also placed women on a pedestal in some ways, but in quite a few of his online posts, he complained about women holding too much of the power when it comes to who does and does not get sex (men). It could've been both to some extent, but it's silly to deny that he resented or hated women. He even said as much himself, and also that he hated everyone else as well.

> Jack's magic bean stock is returning this spring to a garden near you! His secret is actually thousands of years old... it's Rock Dust! By amending your soil with rock dust just twice a year, you will see and taste the difference. No chemicals necessary to flaunt a garden like Jack's! Rock Dust will also enhance your compost, so if you've already tilled your soil or sowed your seeds, it's not too late to benefit from the trace elements in rock dust!

> Macy Horton is a life-long gardener and senior at Babson College, studying entrepreneurship and sustainability. She founded this company in order to empower gardeners, novice and expert, to grow the healthiest and most delicious food possible. Her mission has begun by bringing the benefits of rock dust to all gardeners

> Glasgow University in Scotland has made a so-called study on basalt and rock dust, http://theses.gla.ac.uk/617/01/2009campbellphd.pdf and has come to the false conclusion that the addition to the growing medium of various rock dusts neither improved mineral content of soils, nor the mineral content of crops grown on soils to which they had been added. I believe the study to have been gravely flawed.

It's an unproductive (black and white, merely binary, 'if not for then against US') type of polarization that leaves no opting out alternatives, no way of not feeding either side, and thus both, of these equally compelling 'choices'. True, polarizations cause focus, charge and potential alright but that's all the more reason to be very careful when recommending types of actions that will tap into and dissipate this differential reservoir .. .

Given that Ward may very well have read my, about to be sorta repeated, earlier comments on his pathologizing of 'pacivility' (around the time his book on this subject came out) sincel lately other people are finding my mirror of a Bob Black on Ward Churchill file left and right - it could be said that on this FRONT, Ward's argument remain defiant, nay worse, mocking; check his little comment on the supposed absurdity of 'advocating volcanism' which is in a way exactly what I do do and prefer not to have put down as absurd and crazy; targeting wide swaths of landscape with fresh*(ly recycled and subtly charged)* minerals is the (furthest from affronting) FRONT that could draw the valiants away from the war one once it's vital need as well as perks bennies and all round future musicality are documented and presentable (my decadelong multidisciplinary efforts of doing so {digitally} has obviously not made a dent yet); so, as if ever there was, let there be no mistake about my active and exertious support for a less explosive more proportionally dosed but a nevertheless very recognizable volcano mime and mimick - not that there has been.

meditation and literate expression are the polar opposites that fail to reach the middle (non-verbal tactile soil(out of bare rock)making) other than at top speed in a switchwooshflip on the way from one to the other extreme, like a pendulum; it's mean missed at top speed and remaining conceptual, idealized.

posted thus:
? literate (verbal) expression and meditation - or drunken irrationality, both averred magical powers by the evil intenders and 'holzweg' signposters - are the polar opposites that fail to reach the middle (non-verbal tactile soil[out of bare rock]making) other than at top speed in a switchwooshflip on the way from one to the other extreme, like a pendulum; it's mean missed at top speed and remaining conceptual, idealized.

just posted a few comments to a vid from a Freddy Silva talk (Glasto part 4) in which he refs that levitation skill also (done by the remnant giants trying to retrieve their drowned grandeur 'averredly'). Piling rocks in lowlands don't slow subduction, don't run risks of bulging and pushing the seafloor up (at an inverse rate of precipitous even perhaps)? Specially if combined with storing more and more water in soil over the millenia (which is what i advocate nevertheless .. not that i am against feeding fish with finest of cloudy waters ... .. we don't have to slow all wild waters down by any and all means).
There are electromagnetic (sun) determined explanations for the floods (grand canyon, etcetera) also; discovered one of those recently: Rolf Witzsche.

... iow, not like 'Larry Dillon' who manages to turn around and make his offers, in this case one AATTP shared, unsharable by moving the thus lockstranded cloudbeing to a community it would be nice if you could set an offering to several grades of access:

ranging from restrictions to one's own various circles etcetera .... all the way to setting something on 'sharable in perpetuity' .... iow, not like 'Larry Dillon' who moved his 'share' to a community (just begun, lots of categories in anticipation i guess .. even though there are 5000 followers .. has the plague of dud sites returned?) where however it has pas encore arrived. .. bad time for pacifists; hi testiots have to rage and decimate each other till their critical mass is explossipated ... always been that way ... give or take a few mass murders via bioweapons; Douglas Dietrich claims the Spanish flue was one such (100 miljan victims pausing the one and only world war we had so far .. in the process of suffering attempts to revive it as we type ...)

and so i wrote a 'reactionalysts' about helping them, the shoestring truthers spouting trues you can trust .. for lack of ops to think up a ruse that lets you thrust .. and fight a rock for its dust .. shed an ouchy crust .. where a garden could be again .. (oops, forgive my throwback to the eighties); here it is:
you cannot counter a counting culture with a counter counting culture which merely counts differently, follows the grain from a slightly differently angle .. hoping to achieve higher polish or easier split or whatever, a fraction fetish fumble or at least a perceived one is the proverbial trigger of schismatism and the faultline music one can attend at, always very busy, though imperceptibly moving, large masses of ice for instance google images gives almost exclusive space to a cartoon and only nearly at the end already comes the suggestion the word (quagmire) has a connection to water at all: Stuck in the Lagoon's quagmire - Bad Astronomy | DiscoverMagazine ...

weird ... if all the explosives deployed throughout former and/or future caliphates to bring back greenery, helping heap swales etcetera, then by all means, godspeed ... but we couldn't be any further from that common sense eh?
ps: the very last line has an image from a Chris Hedges piece using the word metaphorically.
Looks like *(hydro)*phobias make no halt for a mere algorhythmic filter. Of course water is inimical to computing ... i called for so far unforthcoming help to retrieve 2 months of important work from a laptop i zombified with a glass of water (nobody that curious about it i guess) and this holds even stronger reversaviced (E-waste poisoning potables at rates even fracking will have a tough time catching up to, for a little while anyways).

not 'bizarre' and 'utterly ..' whatever else you call it. It's pure 'i am more alogical': banking on perfect schizophrenia (a state of being one needs to make one's very second if not first nature second to none) .. in order to get and/or stay rich. Did you totally miss the era of deleuzian schizocapitalist analyses??

Perhaps you really are, in which case, read this again.

appleseed - 5th minute: "people resist truth all the time"
- no people resist claims, wild claims, any claims .. if you want to ground and peel truth from a statement like that (bring it to fore, open and unfold it, irrespective of person, personell and/or personhood even), you are, in my opinion, well advized to tweak it quite drastically, as follows:
a rock is restistance that holds us up, nature is held up and stitches together by trace elements in organically structurated distributions / arrays / arrangements. THAT truth is almost completely disguised by the famous church and it's cornerstone metaphor. Was compost building ever prosecuted i wonder?
truth = 'thruth', to rub and/or break / grind your way thru resistance delivers excellent basic ingredients for grown, not built churchiness .. in the sense of soundspace / voice and the demographic / democratic majority constitutted by 'soilbeings' (life in the soil as opposed to the larger organism upon it, including us).

perhaps they are coming to retrieve the hardwood some of their sell-outs sold in error (without full consent, without fully sharing), or bound to take some localization lessons. I don see any whities amongst them they are politely and firmly returning, as they should.

the problem is irrespective of race, it's a matter of specialization (buy cheap / sell dear gets everybody but the corner grocer 2faced), the jews have always been so divided over this that they divvied up all other races as well, laundering guilty conscience moneys through charities here and there (hence a lot of their ultra left as well as ultra right 'appeal').

the miscalculation of the 'exclusivists' -- which includes all those into spiking and 'steepening' social stratification via sterile insular mechanisms, like labwalls and all other pharmaffiose tricks with worrying ties with securitization via bellicosity and deceit -- is as follows:
people don't go for the wholism (autonomy, secession, simplicity diversity intimacy, regionalism, permaculture); instead it's easy to funnel them to and thru waged specialization and delegation easily, resistance to medication is minimal .... GMO (plants on the operation table) fits the pattern and so it's a go .... they misreckoned with the spirit of rurality ... lots of which looks backwards fondly, something aforementioned conspiratives are incapable of. What is happening with the metacurrency project?

the usual prob, dropping a vital, grounding letter breaks the magic

the entire judaized west (in revenge for 'gestalwashing' jesus into making an attempt to bring northern currency concepts [cernunnos] to the middle east and thus help cure and ground them): 'power' (drops the powder)

don't say this is crazy till you get the gist of remineralize.org and at least try to think about what a forceful pacifism might look like and how it could and should make rapid inroads on conventional front 'building' and 'enaction'.

.. i mean this usual prob applies to metacurrency thankthinkers as well, when they use 'composability' (which drops a t [again] and sells compostability short. I am sure this is not the intentional betrayal other mind over matter folks commit but the effects might be just as bad).

Poor Douglas deliVers yet more proof that his mind is dirtied to a point beyond to where i can soak/sofTen the crusty bits and begin a scrub; his bracing for that is very much stalled in the shy stage (him facebooking, me google+ing) but the fit and natural dispostion guarantees that he is one out of billions i can be confident about taking heed and so i am going to touch upon the most devious bit in this otherwise pretty good program (specially for the dupes and dopes who wasted years on the aliens [crashlanded at Roswell] - despite my nudgery about it having to do with suppresion of aboriginality / indigeneity etcetera - hello +Drew Hempel -).

the sections IN CAPS were added a couple of days later:

The offending section (sorry, no pinpoint) is one where he, asked about Gvt/Corp and/or Gvt VS Corp is decided summarily and without argumentation in favor of the former, leaving aside, ignoring a chance and THE need to examine whether that unity is natural or coerced, principle or mere practice, etcetera.

He gets interrupted a little too much to his liking then and begins to borderline heckLE in his customary manner - which makes his [Alzheimer] remarks about RAMiller seem suspicous[ly projective and thus A self-implicative, not to say confessional admission] as he himself seems to run on robotic a weird lot of the time, DISGUISING THE FACT HE READS OFF HIS NOTES AS MUCH AS HE CAN, ABOUT AS MUCH AS MOST OF ALL TRANSES DO THEIR DICKS WHEN LOOKING TO PUT OUT OR INPUT UP OR WHATEVER.
- so that his interviewer cannot get a word in edgewise for a while until given a well prepared set up to which he dutifully fits "evil for evil" into the slot .. but by then the conversation has turned to very sick fucks and drifted very far from principles of Corporatism vs State. Speaking of which, this is ultimately and at the conclusion of the program, in the key of incompetence all the way to that point, THE EXTENT OF HOW AND WHY we finally learn he judges statehood to on a par with corporate kickdowns and despotic favoritism (apart from his oriental bias of course, him being half 'SinoPanese')*, The top of the line in both army and state all speak one language and clear in one 'currentsee' / MUTUALLY IMPLICATIVE AND IMPLACATIVELY DIABOLICAL, IRREVERSIBLE CONTRACTUALITY#: delivery of shockingly young rapable flesh.

But bottom up statehood, a la Ulrich von Beckerath modified by poetpiet would result in anarchy of abundance, an anarchy of the garden variety and not the gunrunnin cruel gangS from Scar-CitIES types. Seems like we have a lot of work ahead of us, but i recall my own phase of knowing ever clearer what i didn't want, being quite drawn out before beginning to have better and better inclings of what permaculture and garden culture and native people honoroung and pollution 'outphasery' really entails.

52nd: early on in the long one you claim you saw thru your time of service actually helping destuctive memes of empire only by hindsight; this vid proves you are conflicted about it still - being vested in one's past as one's pride is not something one can indulge by half measures very long, nor slough off very easily, specially as those means, methods and measures are those of empire - calling your photographic records those of service, without raising the point i first mentioned again, no quotation marks, nothing.

You simply go on asking what more do we need to prove to ourselves that you are caught up in the pattern .. proudly?, as a willing prisoner?, marvelling at it as an inescapable fate? one might as well try celebrate? .... specially as long as one is clueless about releasing oneself, let alone halting it at any if not all of its points. Well, hurry up, heaven is our greatest and also most perishable good on earth. Timing is everything, "god is number. god is in all. over it is 19". You never heard of that sandbox passtime?

This Man Built A Hobbit House In Just 4 Months, BUT Wait Till You See The Inside -- topinfopost.com
white on black has to be the most ineffective (not to mention often counterproductive) way to bring out beauty ... i should know as an indymedia newswire veteran .. commentarian avant la lettre ...

.. worst way to bring it up & about .... they don't stand up for and to each other except in a very narrow - and therefore what seems like a temptingly easy to define - way ... BUT .. switches and rhythms of literal / metaphorical synaesthesia are tricky and throw you ... under urban conditions they get so easily lost the next generation lose a sense of what they are missing altogether and remain hung up in full fake ..... lack of physical and/or at least attentive experience helps miss meanings of black x white = rockXice = grey = valleys filled and surpluses washed out as plains .. as in ice age time terms

Wow. I was protesting Rocky Flats back in the 80s. Growing up in Boulder I always knew innately that it was a bad deal over there, but listening to Kristen Iversen's research just in this interview makes me realize that it was even worse than I had imagined. Sadly, I'm not surprised. Such a sick culture we find ourselves in right now.

the stuff about nativity related turnarounds i experienced in Oz - recounted in poetpiet.tripod.com/priority_issues.htm 1997 - can prolly be 'pingepointed' best to a moment in a Uni Library where, amazed at the sheer volume of legal (penal colony / settler) history volumes, i cracked one and ... well, you can imagine ..
Contrast this with the first books i opened in Oz (pictures of native bush tucker) ...
.. and then with my hindsight and too late wisdom:
a good thing doesn't survive straining thru a bad medium ...
...specially when the 'meshash' is already hounded, captured, tortured, hung and crucified, whereafter mostly abstract reliquiry, maimed parts, a mere trace echo this abuse as they are 'tapped' (skull and bones term gone mainstream recently) to maim, empty and entrap signification carriers, crowding them out with undead, make believe and gamer fill, .. can't you feel the thrill?
A message, a fine mesh ash, a preverbal act of hygiene, blessing and composting at once, .. if a place is good enough to shit at, by all means have it set in stone .. but be aware that value / waste and significance / signifier relations need to be mirrored .. to balance genders of life and death, keep black and white bouncy and compost toilets the throne people socialize around; we don't all have the luxury of letting the waves take our turds and feed fishes at the same time; fun thing: one can begin to feed sea creatures even very high up in the mountains.

you will enjoy a close look at my alteregoogeretla's idthumb .... i thought deeply about this very slithering into satanism thru misunderstanding of the silkiest and softest rock, the reptilian ALL TIME fave goes without saying ... via the likes of 'no time' (or whatever that damnationspawn experiment is called).
wow ... i just realized i am art and parcel of improper handling there .... if you take the metaphor of guitarist with sound projecting forward as he faces his audience .. and transpose it to the actually depicted action: spreading rockdust in a garden as the caption read for the 2nd or 3rd edition of a newsletter on the subject, for which i worked in the mid eighties. I would be spreading respiratory hazard, impairing and imperiling our most vital rhythm/'timing'. But no, it is actually a parody .. and my fantasies of the time were more along the lines of turning rock concerts into pied piper deals where rocks would be carried from near rather than far along an itinerary that would write it's signature and essence (something like taking all of an acre to 'write' / trace / spread 'rockdust' ..... and a mile down the road 'rules'). Participating audience making sure to bring the dust down safely. Extatic hi density doos easily handled though: just add water ... you know, that stuff kinda hostile to all electronics but those with fresh enough insulation.
This gazabazaquillion gold dollar insight didn't stop me from shorting 2nd laptop back and learnin about the e-waste probs which instillinstalled thus far insuperable inhibition to stay in this digital race. all the more cause i realize the more ethical the truth, the harder it survives passing thru any manmade medium ... perhaps only hands-on can ever do ... perhaps gravity wheel / prayer wheel loaded with pebbles (not letters) or turned to big pivoting boulder stack contraptions can be thrown into the mix if we (those who grasp me) get lucky but times are turning darker ....

Ibn al-Qayyim (rahimahullah) said:

> "Sin may be more beneficial for a person, if it leads him to repent, than doing a lot of acts of worship. This is what is meant by the words of one of the salaf: 'A person may commit a sin and enter Paradise because of it, or he may do an act of worship and enter Hell because of it.' -- They said: 'How is that?' --- He said: 'He may commit a sin and continues to think about it, and when he stands or sits or walks he remembers his sin, so he feels ashamed and repents and seeks forgiveness and regrets it, so that will be the means of his salvation.And he may do a good deed and continue to think about it, and when he stands or sits or walks he remembers it and it fills him with self-admiration and pride, so it is the cause of his doom.

the only thing good about this is the hesitancy; there's a file around with Alan Watts talking to some jews who do this anything goes market transpositioning of dark/light into good/evil and claim they need to experience the one in order to reach / appreciate the other .... it's like stealing from the verities like 'got rock so i need water as well in order to make fresh mud' (the type of wholesome money they have yet to discover by the way, despite the golemesque personification leads .. etcetera).

> “When Islam concluded the whole conundrum of monotheism forever, it also sealed the irreversible conversion of itself to the ovum of apostasies and a heretical holocaust. Surpassing all other religions, annulling them and being the culmination of montheism, Islam becomes the solitary host of all the religions that it cuts from the future, forestalls and blocks. Now, in the presence of Islam as the ultimate religion, all ‘Beliefs’ that could be religions by themselves have to submit to the path of Sharia and continue their existence as minor Islamic beliefs, schisms, religious sub-orders and heresies; all populating, breeding, breathing within Islam. […] If you want to have your own religion, Islam is the best place to start.”

i possess all these qualities and offered Wageningen my services to save the barracks that used to be a reading room for the tropical forestry faculty on the arboretum dotted mountain there (the last hillock by the Rhine before the really low lands) from developers (who subsequently sold to recruiters for Cargill and the like, only a step down/before Monsanto and them devils). The offer came with all my knowledge and documents gathered from involvement with forest defense. i imagined a ban of all hardwood import was within reach. But people see in me as much less as they see more in jesus than he was .. it seems ... In fact, that simile just might be pretty much exact enough to call it an equation instead.

i agree with you sequence-wise .. but once an innovation is servicable it can be socialized to perfection, entrepreneurs cannot competitively deliver a service or product in field that rapidly voluntarizes / obsolesces focus on it via 'ubiquitization' (abundancing') it ..., the hard money minded seek to initiate, create market corners (demand out of nowhere); they belong in the innovative risk taking / secrecy sector and are not to be encouraged or even tolerated past their due owing to their proven toxicity and thanatopical leanings, it's like the guys that take the worst of individualism, tribalism and globalism instead of the best since babylon, they are the most permacultherapy resistant and that DOES deserve focus.

> The grim legacy of America's treatment of its native peoples is explored in detail in this documentary. Filmmakers Robin Davey and Yellow Thunder Woman take the perspective that if one is to define "genocide" as the a deliberate effort by a government to exterminate a people, then the United States is clearly guilty of the crime given their actions against America's indigenous population over the past 300 years. Davey and Thunder Woman back up their argument with footage .. The Canary Effect was screened in competition at the 2006 Tribeca Film Festival.

that's incorrectly formulated dearie ..quite apart from / on top of the fact that the word 'power' is always a perversion / circumcision of powDer - and the gun variety a starkly egregious example .. they all distort, distract and lead away from or do worse to one of the most common lowest, easiest to agree on denominators known to terrestriality: water absorbent rock (the happy medium of softened rock and firmed up water our forebears and foreworms slithered in and out of, some of which remaining quite faithful and satisfied with that 'lowly' medium, the absolute ineluctable first base and staple ingedient of any superstructure wether sane or insane).

fast boy/hi risk / low trust money out of politics consensually polite money into politics ... see 'state theory of money' (a classic work by GFKnapp) iow, restore the kind outed, displaced and cheated from their proper perch by that bunch of usurpers, imperialists, desecrators ...

to clarify further: 'money out of politics' is similarly flawed.

i see my ref is pretty flawed on top of the fact you picked a word i have just used for the first time ever as far as i remember.

anyway, i rewrote parts of it adding others and will here add an example of what i tried to point out and target, ... this one was written only 2 weeks ago. in case you think it's too long i'll peel the operative phrase out up front for quick inspection:

state (and money thereof = root of historical metal/paper 'divide' .. call it a store counter if you like) had been overrided and overrun by oligarchic money in politics which overrode, overran, overruled and ousted the money OF politics!!!

good satire is unflattering .. but even what's considered good satire is an unflattering admission of defeat when it fails to include an alternative ... cover the ground between sore point and shortest rout to that alternative ... as a plea for disengagement from a distance it's impotent; draw attention to a viral potential is therefore used as a lure by the object turning itself into subject ... that sleight of media i talked about yesterday in reference to that radiovoice good for nothing.

i disapprove of this depiction, .. sure virtues are a safety net and the uncompliant expelled but in fact to classify minerals in order to come up with finest grounds that ground all growing endeavours need not be personified if a logical extension of working to offer god, one's fellow man, women, animals and even trees the very best .. is to lovingly sort the very minerals into best proportional association, mingle and merge mixes with organic matter, it's hygenic principle irrespective of language or even earth itself (mars? been there that done .. venus next maybe ... see 'Genesis Continuous').

no matter how sunny a disposition, the jonestown outlook's only logical conclusion and consequence is suicide .. or paranoid paralysis at least; that's why the jonestown ref is pert, pithy and to the point (thanks) ... yet the whole idea rests on conflating generalized with incidental calamity. Were the former instance to actually transpire the law and order folks would be really badly outnumbered and charged with protecting empire bureaucrats and officials and the like .. i've heard   say the fema camps are for the latter . to be protected from hungry mobs there .. but that may have been his sense of dark humour getting the better of him.

Howlers by Henrik:
Russell wants centralization .... well, perhaps not unless it can be open sourced; generalization of clever schemes, big hits and huge profits is 'transparantization', the condition for avoiding the undead propped up stage .. and the other danger flowing from that which Henrik does not see behind his bugabooig mental screen crusader cross painted across 'wealth redistribution', namely, the fact that unchecked holy profit soon grows into oligarch territory and and they are notoriously paranoid about the state yet feel more and more like a state all in themselves, which calls for the accoutrements of course and hopsa, standing armies at attention on the double dupe licit (y e y eyeyeyey) to ply the city with gifts from above ... all good ordinance ... except for the unexploding ones sticking their fins in the air all around east Ukraine.

Thus paranoia about wealth redistribution leads linea recta to the split that splatters and shatters matters ... while it actually means cutting dreadfully draggy dreadlocks which handicap the bearer of them wether he thinks of himself of a god (Kolomoiski - read Eduard Hodos) or not.

Ulrich von Beckerath was a great admirer of Kant and a great man himself. I keep asking people to look him up ... but never ever got a response .. which is just as discouraging as the wars and rumours of war .. which in a way are a logical consequence of the block regarding my recommendations ... sometimes it feels i have a midas touch in these matters ... as indeed a Barry Lynes (astrologer and first RRRife fanman i learned about) once told me. Quite the unwelcome and shocking reading and a hard one to shake in the face of uglier and uglier evidence.

Personally i haven't much patience for taking the 'hegemondialization' of schizophrenia so ponderously serious, passive and reactive but it's far cry from your abject syrupslap lipflap &toxmouthage ... i much prefer the anger +Douglas Dietrich displays but he rages over the frustration of not having the numbers to get yall 'laughed' out of court .. to use a tribal conditions anachronism which under splinternet ones, alas, is not to be or as it may there appear, cannot prevail .. due to yallz massive (ly undead) pretend trend worship .... still the same old make belief / literacy lipflap ... literacy devils holding all who fall for it by the short and vital .... endless delays on cycling the gradient leverage lets them get away with competing amongst themselves for yet wider grasp of their monolithigious mania for moron standard streamline and pompyachts in the maritime tublawlessness .. betting their choicest picks from organic growths against each other, all invariably violated in the process ... cause thanatopians have no longrun use for hinterlands, offspring or anything .. sacrifice (the old migration glorifying occupation army trick long since bibleographically 'settled' is a song that remains the same, some tribes need a little monastically modernized [monasticated] prison system cycle or 2 [perhaps even up to 7 generations, i'll salvage that much from the bible] before that changes).

> Brian Willems on SPECTRE - James Bond, the Psychopath
> January 21st, 2014 reset - IN THE OPENING of Ian Fleming's novel Thunderball (1961), James Bond has a really low opinion of himself: "he was ashamed"; he "despised the face that stared sullenly back at him from the mirror above the wash basin" and he calls himself a "Stupid, ignorant bastard!" all in the breadth of just a few pages. The reason for this self-depreciation is that Bond is bored: "It all came from having nothing to do."

> Juliana Hatfield's unreleased album, God's Foot. If you've read Juliana's memoir, When I Grow Up (which I recommend), then you know the story behind this. In essence, this album was recorded in 1996, following Only Everything. It was set to be released in 1997, but the people at Atlantic couldn't hear a single on the album, so they decided not to release it. Hatfield left Atlantic and no label decided to buy the album, so it never got released. NOTE: The version I downloaded had the names in random order. From an object-oriented standpoint, one of the reasons I'm attracted to Luhmann's systems theory is that it emphasizes the autonomy and independence of systems, along with their closure. While systems do enter into relations with other systems, these relations are external and systems are independent entities.

> 5524 --- People vs the banks: Man beats court eviction and prevents eviction on home repossession --- mark -Oct 20, 2014 In light of recent "Common Law" evictions attempted and successfully resisted at Yorkley Court Community Farm in the Forest-of-Dean http://tlio.org.uk/yorkley-court-dodgy-eviction-attempt/ and another which was successful at a site outside Bristol a week before the NATO Summit in Newport, I point readers to the following interesting story of a civil dispute against eviction 2 years ago which, whilst not related to common law evictions at-all (with common law evictions, incredibly, the claimant may remain anonymous), shows the power of being well-organised. In this instance documented live on film, the proponents defending the family being evicted claim they have created a legal precedent, because they suggest eviction proceedings in civil disputes against homeowners or rental occupiers are often applied deceitfully without warrants and the people in this film assert that even with a warrant, the use of physical force can be illegal (presumably unless it is justified on the warrant sanctioned by the court).

> In and around H. G. Clouzot’s Le Mystère Picasso, Rickels discerns a contest among media in the raising or burying of ghosts through structures of suspense. The attendant showdown in group psychology lies between Picasso’s performance as test subject on Clouzot’s set and Jackson Pollock’s role in Hans Namuth’s 1951 short film.

Policymakers have celebrated this global initiative as the end of bank secrecy. Exploiting a unique panel dataset, our study is the first attempt to assess how the treaties affected bank deposits in tax havens. Rather than repatriating funds, our results suggest that tax evaders shifted deposits to havens not covered by a treaty with their home country. The crackdown thus caused a relocation of deposits at the benefit of the least compliant havens. We discuss the policy implications of these findings.

justine tunney is a new england tranny (exceptionally genuine female voice and looks) coder working for (and praising) google, took aol im down with trolling software used by half a million people (reminds me of the kiddies disturbing the 4th of july silent meditation portion at the rainbow gathering), began the occupywallstreet.org website and kept all the demand lists off it, scolds those who came to talk to the press all day without doing any 'work' (does she mean erecting nice bookshelves for nice books which were pretty much all destined to disappear in and bound for eviction containers from getgo?).

peter klein of tnn guest hosts on this SSmallstorm show and speaks to Michael Cravey's girlfriend .. who received txt messages from him as late as 8 o'clock on the morn he supposedly stabbed someone at 6, got chased, ran a section of the freeway the wrong way, crashed, approached an officer with a raised hatchet and was killed

he has ferreted out a section where michael tries out an outburst of anger ... possibly for the very first time in his life (judging by his gf's words) and says: "you are looking at an insane person, a sane one would go out doing bad things to bad people".
Good call that, the ferreting i mean.

what does the immigration trouble in europe consist of really?? one major aspect is completely taboo and i will hint at part of the reason after a pithy one-liner about it: folks with a short temper due to cultural instillation / schlepballast / bad habit of ... sugar use, ... in america they train cops to do the disruption duties (delegated to them by diabolic dualists, also not primarily an ethnic trait .. but we are slowly waking to the fact that a bent can arced into anything and anybody)

chiemgau comet (first millenium?) led to displacement .. the refugees militarized as they, by dint of sheer size, were mostly unwelcome, .. then, as the original cataclysm site became habitable again, comet shards were found from which a new forging method and/or material was derived which gave swordfighters using this material an edge, thus perpetuating the warrioring specialisms for profit and giggleshit .. mercenarization / adventurism / multiculturalism followed suit as these rippled and caramboled around ... you can imagine, a controversial hypothesis ... but it did appear as dramatized docu on german national tv in the noughties i believe

> Well, as you might have heard in the interview, Levenda has received many death threats and has been in the midst of a couple of hair-raising situations in which he was lucky to come out alive. Peter is a very brave man to do what he does to expose a conspiracy that fools and paid agents want us to ignore, even though it's probably the most thoroughly documented real and actual conspiracy that our species has ever faced..

you are making a huge mistake ... pretending that extremism and fringe outrage can ever become mainstream .. you cannot equate froth w depth ... simple ... nor is it useful to try scare folks into the right thing by pretending one changes into the other any minute now if we don't .. etcetera. I am cautioning myself as much as i do you cause in many ways my own life was/is one of extremes including many you touched upon .. but inasfar as they made me party to *(bl)*absolutes that would greatly further the common good when implemented, i must not suffer the illusion that my advice means anything any time soon .. and neither do yallz warnins. they won't roll back the gaming industry's surrogate fatherhood role and warninnies and nannies will abide and abound as the intraterrestrial bugatry is a neuter shegemon's devolved primate's fate .. nor will my visions result in the provisions of treecrop culture very soon. Yall are hopelessly superficial, bickering over pennies and turf. Why not instead forge the much needed synthesis of Walter Russell, Otto Weininger, Silvio Gesell, Andrew Lehman, Richard Wrangham .. and when it comes to force/violence, me.

> Based on the video game adaptation of the famous 14th century poem, Dante's Inferno follows tortured Christian warrior Dante as he chases the soul of his beloved Beatrice through the 9 circles of Hell, guided by the spirit of Virgil. In each circle Dante is confronted by his own sins committed during the Crusades, as well as a bevy of gruesome beasts and fallen rulers on his way to a final confrontation with Satan himself, who intends on making Beatrice his infernal bride.

most of them in fact don't budge .. and that's not discounting the 'cute' moves (turning rock to soil is a different matter). i thought this was an appropriate quote (from [the middle of] my latest upload):
pure beauty is associated with the deadly outcome of malingering on primary narcissism. That is why beauty must be administered on control release. Sachs writes:

> beauty, in proper doses and properly blended arouses energy, in other words omnipotence. According to Sachs, the dosing of the relation to primary narcissism was key to the success of the new genre of animation, a new totemism, in which, he underscores, "every attempt to have its 'characters' approach beauty has a most unfortunate effect"*
> Sachs cites as direct hits of uncanny beauty, the rotoscoping of live actors for the success of SnowWhite and the seven dwarfs and Pinnoccio. ... films .. were the first intrapsychic platforms for the mediatic buffering or staggering of the psychotic consequences of primary narcissism through gadget love.

it's texas type hot here at the mo ... you'd fit right in ... every body is away on holiday

i took a trip and the car broke down .. took lots of public transport in the ensuing days .. in between i returned to the squatted army base that hasn't changed much but is greener than ever ... the bird population there is a thousand fold of what it is here ... but right next to it is a bio industry thing with cattle ... they were raging mad that nite ... rattling the metal guide rails as if they were making an appeal to me .... amazing got there via a magical ride with adventurer like me who spent as much time in southern france as i did in the states ... ran subsidized crews from a castle ... the anthroposophical camphill model is making a come back it seems. wish you well .. as always ...

can anybody confirm the EU endorsed and 'statisticated' "30 kinds of intercourse"?? I'd like to see them listed even once .... a first for me then anyway ... guess i'm a little slow ... as i was slow to suspect the homosexual Alphonso Lingis might also be a paedophile coming back from SEAsia with tales of temporary paedophilia to recruit help of uncles or something.

I mean, not even permaculture counts more than 7 layers between mudpond and treecrown .....

the EU must have included a selection of pets and farm animals i guess. But more likely the russian press extrapolates the 'endorsement' from the (outlier) facts dished out by the absurdities, rare and tchrilling, trash, hype and crash pushing 'dumpumpress'; ... fueled by their preferred 'no light between permission and tolerance' policy; the transparancy perfection strived for tempts to find black and white .. identical ... the male ideal of all consistent, no grey area logic & linearity; in short, the unrealism of literacy.

As the saying goes, if you want to know where the power lies ask whom you cannot criticize... -- coltraine9 first abuse of power is dropping the d and pretend it's centralizable and works better under hierarchical command structures instead of coaching it and coaxing it from inner and innate prompts.
powdered rock and water makes soil, in especially aesthetic and healthgiving ways when combined with and tied into daily cleaning and preening practice ... rockpowders in composts moved as little as possible .. which means water clearing ponds for every neighbourhood as the always welcome excuse to go be social instead of using flush toilet and pipery as first steps on the multirunged ladder of delegatory disempowerments and freeing time only to contribute to regimentation rather than self-discipline.

i am beginning to wonder if this kind of post is perverse confirmation and promotion of the kiddie diddler cult at the bottom of sealing the bad deals bad dealers make over our heads; ..... unless major pr agencies do a concerted and sustained campaign on bad deal money instead of their regular shit, we are not gonna get through this way. Maybe the adman is at the very bottom of it all and tightening flabby brains is a whole lot more difficult than fighting obesity.

G:\Pics\set3\PwPx
had hundreds of PP12 and 30 PP11
fused the former with G:\Pics\set3\Px\pp12
which had 107 and swelled to 388
was it a fourth of the files i had taken out to be theme foldered?
in that case i should have kept them behind / separated by (inner) folder walls ..... and would lose/double hours going through that streamlining process again ...
but in the interest of diversity and chronology the fullest possible collections have merit ... so i'm not really mad at myself now ....

june 09 went from 109 to 320 [k or mb?] by the same method but now i am gonna seriously reign myself in cause i am now making it irreversible by doing the identical think on both HDs ... which is good for ease of retrieval since ... what happened to diversity .. rite?
Don't apply to filing system sets lest you fail to resist the nerdification of it all ... but wait .... the grand reversal .. undo .. clear ... give away
... am i seriously thinking of buying a bunch of cheapo HDs via marktplaats, loading them with the new streamlined material (ponderment residuals), systematized in userfriendly sets which overlap and yet change greatly by the decade and send them to the 4 corners of the world ... my fave subs ...??
how would i go about updating the bloggers ... what happened to the list of blogs i was meaning to revisit when riding hi on the storms of discovery??
Oh that's rite ... they all drowned in my meticulously accumulative note files ... worked over less and less .. just like i perhaps read no more than a 10th of all the txts i 'save' off of the internet .... simply adding to the E-waste piles as none of them even remotely lead people to my core material as of yet .... i guess i am doing it from the prolly mistaken notion that if i ever want to attract people to what i still consider may be my essential saviourstatus ticket package, i will have to make it a great hide and seek prize ... devize a tidy and geeky game to make 'm dive for the pearl in sediment every bit as toughgoing as cold syprup ... i guess i am being more faithful to the modus operandi of a guy who said 'with friends like these, who needs ... ' about me .... sigh ......
i should switch to named person folders containing all media vs the separate methods i keep stubbornly holding onto ..in order to accomodate capacity staggering ... and remain true to the chronological sequentiality i keep allowing to carry weight.

.... didn't use my time tonite optimally .... got lost in the fucking forest of my filing 'system[s] .... should have uploaded the mobile version of DD's latest ... mobile version of Douglas Dietrich w Rex Bear on US oligarch sycophant caste bent on EU destruction = my retitle for this: Douglas Dietrich, Satanism, Black Magick, Global Mind Control & The Anti-God Agenda .... the original, with host Rex Bear of 'Leak Project' (yt) is very hi quality audio, but this needs to go farther and wider than that can so .... they should fire you from the green party for sharing this kind of recycling ... the offgassing of this framed plastic is enough to seriously confuse the offspring of this man should he 'engender' any in that space. But wait, pc/green/war for gender 'justice' complex will compensate by looking away from the dangerous end of the extreme and think that catering to other end will benefit the whole ..... all of which distracts from and betray the only righting / writing form that should be the base of green memery: splitting rock till you can sink your hand on it and then basing hygiene, health and thus demonitized and dedemonized wealth on that kind of currency current minting. Derrick Jensen Resistance Radio w/ Diana Beresford-Kroeger - September 13, 2015 --
DeepGreenResistance -- 2K
9 views .. Sep 20, 2015 ----------- Diana Beresford-Kroeger, a botanist, medical biochemist and self-defined "renegade scientist," brings together ethnobotany, horticulture, spirituality and alternative medicine to reveal a path toward better stewardship of the natural world. Diana's latest book is called The Sweetness of a Simple Life (Random House Canada). Recently, Diana has been working on a film based on her book, The Global Forest, which has taken her around the globe. The film will be released in 2015. Diana lives in Ontario, Canada, with her husband, Christian H. Kroeger, surrounded by her research garden filled with rare and endangered species.

you are aware, are you not, of people who enter a comp cluster for example and are subconsciofraid of it all and to prove themselves right and powerful proceed to fuck up terminals?? I've seen it happen around me multiple times. The fact you act like spoiled brat for whom just a few motorcycles are simply not good enough ... makes me suspect a run of this discenario. i can't be as 'stellig' as you prefer to be but there you have it.

i am a huge fan of diffusionist research but, as most compartmentalized 'disciplines', it has become a split/forked affair. one of which leads ['linea rectates'] into the strong tale ['visserslatijn'] territory [peopled by the likes of Glen Kealy .. offering tales] of unspeakable spookery vs a surreal heroism (fonction fabulatrice as per Levi Strauss); perhaps the [grand]mother of schizophrenia mothers ... such as ... motherhood tout court, greed, commerce ... etcetera ... and the other fork follows the rebus traces of meticulous anecdote and fact siftery to back the inferred and tentative conclusions (rare talents like Cyclone Covey, Barry Fell, etcetera work there).

Eric Raymond, author of The Cathedral and the Bazaar, talks with EconTalk host Russ Roberts about the ideas in the book--why open source software development has been so successful, the culture of open source, under what conditions open source is likely to thrive and not to thrive, and the Hayekian nature of the open source process. The conversation closes with a discussion of net neutrality.

Occupy TV 1.41 -- occupyeugenemedia -- 110 -- 2,302 .. Feb 3, 2013 - Black Bloc and Anarchism in Occupy, with John Zerzan 52nd minute we hear that the infamous 'little eichmann' phrase -- popularized by right wing media, trying to scapegoat 'leftie' condemnation and 'anprangerung' of sold@bureaucr@ such as Wallstreet tends to stack and tend and cater to -- was borrowed from the good old Zerz (who still has not clue about how to harmonize the vital acts .. for all his interest in communial ways of indigenes, it's ... well .. supect really) -- such as gathering to pool muscle and/or resource, to celebrate and/or protest, iow, to what extent centralization is practically and useful (i'll give you a hint right now, it has to do with compost; the shitbucket runner is the best doctor of a colony in a difficult/hostile environment) ... i went for descriptions of the real thing (seen with my own visionary eyes and they are, in my eyes again .. or still .. even though not short circuited) as useful as the sun and the moon compared to yall other stars when it comes to shedding light. I have no problem making this boast yet i have grown a huge disgust for braggartboys like intello / street comedian / eso 'fablist' Bob (he insists to have stood model for the Bob of the subgenii) who colludes with his wife (CarolynDean.com) accomplices and groupies to go for the very type hype proprietary cult model he pretends to expose the inner workings of (though his weekend radio call in marathons are an unconventional tactic - he's on about Zappa a lot lately).

I should look up early pointers i wrote against music ... how it is ultimately produced by culture that commit assaults on the music made by the true specialists, birds .. and most other animals almost equally. It's a mimic at best, an imitation, a weak reflection, an expression of envy, an attempt to amplify an otherwise too weak voice, a surrogate, a substitute, and as i began to say, a displacement. As far as i can see only the friction of rock on rock which leads to soil formation after subsequent careful and clever combining with what blooded beings relieve themselves of daily, can then lead to a sounding of all soils and plants in the area and a rejoycing of all animals .. most of them conscious of what's going on, that's why cernunnos was known as lord of animals, and why his compost lozenge coins, strewn like the 'pepernoten' by the black helper/slave of the early church leader, around the base / habitat / territory where this 'rooting' happened, led to a [*(p)*re]vitalization of and 'guten ruf' for it.

I should look up the early pointers i wrote against emergency stuff we should phase out ASAP, to wit, the pills, pastes and ointments which (if/when/as long as indulged in, celebrated, etc) displace healing of soil, which is the only way to truely ground, root, anchor and earn a batch/badge of 'permanentism', that which the split occupy movement began stumbling towards with blindfolds on. It'll resprout no doubt.
ps: 53rd / 54th minute he brings up what i forgot to mention ('deoccupy' the indigenes / occupy the occupiers, disown the disowners)

1h 34th minute JJ comes back and one of the callers goes 'judge, judge, judge' which is funny in the face .. or aftermath rather, of me trying once again, fruitlessly, cause i once again forgot about earlier fruitless attempts, to retrieve the passage carved into my memory undislodgeably and so loud it seems, quite mistakenly, everybody must have heard me either wail, scream and sing about it often enough to not need to spell it out once more. I am talking in fact about a work by W J Sidis wherein he leaves native american maidens the choices over life and death of captured spies ... jurisdiction left to teenage virgins as it were ... best dousers of the bipedal fires i'd say, first sight love of the exotic under control ... quite clever ... but i can't find the passage and haven't got my print boxes sorted to check manually right now due to space constraints ... i am in fact under assault from my very neighbours who moved in without giving me a choice and they figure they can get away with zero tolerance violence towards .. .strings on the mutual rainpipe ... even thought they peppered the mutual hedge with nails without consultation, even though the string held a panel to shield me from a garden light which hasn't been in use for 5 years ... etcetera.

why are you blocking your + thingie?
if you like to have a global perspective on pacifism (tibet style) vs the soil growing depacified, proactive monastic style every peaceful body is hankering for and more or less ineptly chasing after, take a few hints from someone with a 20 years record of keeping a very special*(ized)* eye out for all the components to make that work.
Hint:
the prayermills are the closest thing to filling an empty (merely literate) gesture by loading it with rocks (first stage in soil formation is mineral size reduction more often than not, next is rainslowth ... then combined and so on ...)
if you care to work that into your movie i'll pay for at least that part for sure.

> Journey to the Source - Alexis Lefort 2010 -- 10 - 492 views .. Jun 21, 2014 --- This is the story of the unbroken Khordong Byangter Lineage since the 8th century. The journey starts in India where it was recently established by H.H Chhimed Rigdzin Rinpoche to preserve the teachings. It then takes us all the way back to Eastern Tibet to find out what remains of the lineage there and to walk on the footsteps of the founders of this tradition. We are talking here about the old school of Tibetan Buddhism, also known as the Nyingmapa founded by Padmasambhava in the 8th Century.

you sport lines of argument just about as frazzle-raggedy .. bafboffed as your hair is ... however, i like what you are driving at.
your worst omission is failing to point at/out the dangers of repetition when slogans / refrains, yellin & cussin are concerned; they each can cheer as easily as menace when intensified, rocked and tested for runaway momentum dontcha know (.. such as can and NEEDS TO be designed for .. insistence, consistence and staggerstepped [cycled] leverage .. remember this when trying to nail a marble slope for some tods ...).

RockSoilerToil TaleTattler: interesting point towards the end about Varoufakis never expecting the euro elite to go for a grexit and therefore lacking in anticipation and presentation of just such a move. I blame that on his great friendship with Doug Henwood and the like; kinda notorious (in my eyes) for not leaving the entire complementary currency movement with much more than a sneer now and then .. if anything. Their historic awareness appears meticulous but is in fact only skindeep?

good and sensible as usual but i find it offputting when he starts off with a global perspective that camouflages the fact whities must not be encouraged nor sneaked into feeling they own the americas .. no matter wether they are 2nd or 7th generation .... i managed to reverse my 'settle down' plans and realize that's not possible without external stimulus for most US born whities .. but i seem to not get tired of pointing this problem / solution out as the pinnacle of permaculturation: repatriation right alongside restorative regreening and soil making from hard rock below bottom out clean gone levels on up around the 36th minute we see a man blow a handful of volcanic dust unaltered for millions of years; this is exactly the stuff that, strategically used to soak and suck up the CO2 in the process of it's reduction, is the remedy John Hamaker suggested in the late 70s and this docu fortifies his research in every way but that little crucial nub of it; i devoted my life to spreading his insights but the PC world all hell bent on misleads about same, succeed cause they play 'dirty', then get to direct and censor from behind the scene in order to more easily herd, steer and stampede entire chunks of humanity (BBC, PBS, ... all other mega corpsies) away from true 'grounding' knowledge, they disallow it in favor of 'powDer play in minus D'.

And despite this i find the fact PBS is the source of this NOVA docu mentioned in neither title nor description by the uploader, in bad taste and worse stile (stijlloos). So there.

Similarly all the old link provision in the initial, more idealistic stage of radioing online has been held closer and closer to those who sully the conduits with their content yet think they have to sequester and save it as if it were the type of old style goldfever bait rather than the compost you can't see spread far and wide enough; .... so when i fruitlessly worked thru a couple of the many listed commercial stations without finding any of them ... i had to begin peeling them out of the code and got lucky enough to do so succesfully just before the show started ... and stalled often with disgusting commercial breaks. well, i am just the messenger, don't shoot me. Saying I don't care for any SciFi is way too weak, i am disgusted by it. Fantasy however, such as Robert Graves wrote and Guy Gavriel Kay writes DOES touch me, ... however, systematizers of it evoke ambivalent feelings, like Jose Arguelles.

I just wrote the comment cause i try to promote Douglas Dietrich (part of his work anyway ... come listen to my fave selection from his programs; the one i quoted from goes on to do an overview of all major 20th century's sea battles).

> People often think a successful campaign must have hundreds and even thousands of people gathered together in one location for a strong show of force. But is this always true? Are protests and rallies always the most effective way to make change? What if protesters, instead of congregating in one spot, spread out their resistance across many different locations? What are the advantages of choosing one over the other? Which tactic would be more suitable in a highly repressive country like Tibet? To find the answers, watch this video and share it.

> After some such hints as to nutrition it cannot be indifferent what kind of crops we raise for our nourishment and with what substances our fields are fertilized. It cannot be all sufficient that great quantities are harvested, but the great quantity must also be of good quality. It is indisputable that by merely fertilizing with marl; i. e., with carbonate of lime, such a large yield may be gained as to make a man inclined to always content himself with marl, but with such a one-sided fertilization slowly but surely evil effects of various kinds will develop; these have given rise to the axiom of experience: "Manuring with lime makes rich fathers but poor sons"
> Despite such experience, however, after a certain time, when those who experienced the damage have passed away, manuring with lime always again becomes a fashon. So even now. The harvests after manuring with lime are so favorable that there are those who expect their salvation from fertilizing with lime. Not loug ago the German Agricultural Society granted a prize to a paper on " Fertilizing with Lime." But such prizes do not prove anything. Also a paper on Chili-nitre as a fertilizer received a prize.

no time with some suddenly enligtened saud moola backing ... ... but .. speaking about miracles i'd say this: neo-reaction has an eco blind spot; the consequences: under liberal cathedral conditions rightieite leanings are denigrated, isolated, marginalized and their activities pushed across the peripheries and horizons (even encouraged to - and instrumentalized when they - do so ...case in point, ukraine).

this is due purely to the dilution of pollutants righties / rurals typically experience, along with other health bestowing environmental factors (which however, are very much unacknowledged and taken for granted) vs the urbanite masses amassing missive mission massagers, typically misdirected, missing the true targets of compost heaps but going tut tut w raised finger towards rapacious ravage of resources; the eco gospel is the unwritten dictat granting leftisms rights of ways constantly countered by counterproductive emergencies and exceptions like the wars for democracies which actually cater to spoilt rotten top end of rightieites totally dissociated from their base and no less polarized with them than loggers are against treedefenders.

thus differences within races are lots worse than those between them ... and they all start with soil/turd related disabilities, that is, a range of labourdivision related 'delegatoses'

> A little documentation about our first Community-Tours 2014, collecting experiences with communities in a gift-economy network. We visited sustainable communities and ecovillages around Europe on our path from the Urban Communities-Convergence Berlin to the Danube Communities-Convergence Romania. We did this, to learn about sustainable ways of living, but also to bring experts, knowledge, experiences, products and resources to where they are needed. Like this we created win-win relationships and started a network of trust and support.

your stupidest argument is the 'heavily regulated substance, hence gvt involvement' one ... take heroin .. where do you buy that? All crimes are sandwiched between secrecy and deniabillty / false fronts. gvt 'social' disservices -- provided to those they inflict with and 'help' acquire a taste for, double, triple and upwards dealings on highly paranoid hi-price markets -- are due[ly to be made good for by the innocent taxpayer and due] to all these types of substance control (indulged to displace and/or for lack of, ethical universalisms easily engageable as budget boost / token bases) driven by/to the suppressed last/only queenie butchboy left standing trip; in short, (gvt 'countroll') baits black budget footsie (foetsie) soldier violence .. again .. for lack of soil blackening ethics, as easily adopted by the sensibles among statists as by the same among guerrillas ... the trick is using arms to surround and protect larger and larger arms free zones practicing THAT neato trick (swale digging, rockdusting, etc) which has become the illicit and scarce thing in the topsy turvy world where money and bullets race each other for speed and 'space' .. while the best space possible and musically minable patiently abides it's time in rocks .. more and more of which 'crop' up as the soils are killed and washed clear off and away from them.

saturday 6th of februari -- planetary moon
i have good memories of a national rbg in Vt ... ... but many faded ones also .... perhaps that has to do with me trying to cycle to Montreal from Burlington some years later in too moist a bunch of headwinds and zero rides given, let alone taken ... resulting in a cascade of troubles: R:E:A:L:L:Y stressed one of my knees out, got to an eso store and lost in their tarot deck catalog long enough for my bike and all to get stolen ... and back on the bus my resident alien card was taken in for questioning - justifiably so since my marriage was a semi-sham (fleetingly friendly 'via via' - mutual gay friends - sort of thing with a street musician from Montana who lived in the only little one floor house left in a neighbourhood of hi-rise apartments, in her fruitbox library i found my first copy of 'the white goddess') embarked upon as a protest to injustices done to a me as a legit tourist by a colleague of the Canadian border patrol officer who lived next to a fruit farmer one of whose migrant workers i had met at Pike Street Market (where BabyGramps was my huge comfort for 'the trial' months that were the first to ever keep me in a big city that long). That bike by the way, was a trade with a mixrace dude at the Oregon State/County (?) fair which had been in cars with me practically the whole way up to that point (in 2 giant rides, the first in a camaro type car even).

My original plan was going to NYC w northerly winds in my back (after Montreal) ... semi-repeat an earlier pedal, was to renew an earlier bid/appeal (made in LA, one of the years in between, on a borrowed, 4 sizes too small bicycle that time) petitioning for 'director' of Madonna vids posish ... cause i was convinced, even just one could be turned into a peaceful revolution spark, if only it showed how actual groundlevels of micro revolutions - like memes, fads, fashions, hypes and Orwellian waves like clouds and other virality carriers, the minute matters of the mind - can must and will always relate and ramify to mere mental yet macro and mega penetrant ones. I am speaking of course about that old crown jewel throne thing you will well know: the art of compostage (toilet as well as any and all the life up from rockbottom ground / base levels). But that parvarsity is too unifically topian for the vast abyss clefture / polarity between ink and rock / 'wall' and ethical clarity to step down a land lowering leverage without washing a lot of tox down the cracks trying to aim some chunks at gaps too large .. and more often than not, feeding a wall proliferation into not living but stacked standing, filled with hivemind that remains myopically unaware of rock's journey from mountain top to sea floor, let alone the brief station/break it gets as 'soil' with ability to feed this gigantomanic grubcrowd that crowds itself out like all cadaver feeders do. > The Outer Limits of Psychoanalysis: An Interview with Laurence Rickels - may 5, 2015
> In February, Laurence Rickels stopped by Austin, Texas. Dr. Rickels, who is the Sigmund Freud Professor of Psychoanalysis at the European Graduate School as well as Professor of Art and Theory at the Academy of Fine Arts in Karlsruhe, Germany, was in town as part of the tour for his latest book: Germany: A Science Fiction. During his visit, he also swung by UT-Austin's Digital Writing and Research Lab and was generous enough to sit down for the following interview.
> In his new book, Rickels focuses on psychopathy as, quote, "the undeclared diagnosis implied in flunking the empathy test." He does so via an exploration of Germany's role in Cold War-era science fiction: from the Thomas Pynchon novel Gravity's Rainbow to B movies like 1962's The Day of the Triffids to the science fiction of Philip K. Dick. In addition to Germany, Dr.

> Rickels has written numerous works tracing connections between psychoanalysis, popular culture, critical theory, science fiction, and mourning. His books include The Case of California, The Vampire Lectures, a three-volume series entitled Nazi Psychoanalysis, and Spectre, in which Rickels turns his attention to Ian Fleming's James Bond. He's also the author of a recent article entitled "The Race to Fill in the Blanks: On (Animal) Testing in Science Fiction," which appeared in the 2014 issue of Philosophy & Rhetoric touched on in this podcast's premiere episode.
> In our conversation, I ask Dr. Rickels about his use of the term "psy-fi," the impetus behind his new book, the relationship between his work and that of the late media theorist Friedrich Kittler, as well as the puns and juxtapositions that punctuate his pages.

Spotlight Sunday: Not A Farm Girl - dirtpatcheaven

on the day of bardic, troubadour, chivalric, heraldic love at a distance, heiress held in tower type stuff ()*, you give us a vid with a thumb that carries false advertizing ... or should we take it as a preview and spur to keep watching?
* while hubby continues dirty diddllng and doling out weaponry to any two sides he can 'equalize' (hence spark into battle, abusing the natural laws about comparision and equality to which i devoted the first line of my dutch website: natuur doet meer aan verre van, dan aan [ver]gelijken = nature acts more [often] on 'far from equal' than on '.. like..'); matching triggers combat, punishment for the equality meme which paradoxically triggers feeling of impending take over (depending on the necessity / expedience and reflexivity factors), 'verongelijktheid' (slighting)

she privatized this very shortly after i posted my first comment ... for which i am utterly ashamed after looking at that thumb again, .. it's clearly the lady in a much earlier/slimmer era of her existence .. now, .. i am very guilty of sending prospective friends links to my 'rocks to earthspinner' idpic which is from 1980 .... so absolutely no harsh criticism intended ... though i cannot claim to still posses that venturesome spirit of yore ..

> This show presents an audiobook-ish experience, based on a talk by Silvia Federici about her book 'Caliban and the Witch'. This book talks about how the development of capitalism is deeply entwined with processes of accumulation which needs to mold and domesticate the bodies of women in specific ways. The politics of reproduction at stake in this historical study is still very much at work today, and this book provides an invaluable background to developing struggles around reproduction and care today. --------- capitalism, gender and colonialism.

Full Interview with Elaine Willman

The New American Video - 535 - 157 views ..
Jul 2, 2015
Leading federal Indian policy expert Elaine Willman, author of Going to Pieces - The Dismantling of the United States of America, told The New American in an exclusive in-studio interview that the Obama administration and federally funded tribal governments are colluding to assault the U.S. Constitution and American liberties.

She said Americans must wake up to the threat and take action. Willman, who is of Cherokee Indian ancestry, served as the chair of the Citizens Equal Rights Alliance from 2001 to 2007 until accepting the position of director of community development and tribal affairs with the Village of Hobart in Wisconsin. She still serves on CERA's board.
thenewamerican.com/

she devotes the last 3 minutes to ethnicity .. which she claims must be demonetized .. as americans need to be dehyphenated

kudos for recognizing the last 3m of her info as "explosive information". i agree .. but stick to the conclusion of my more elaborate comment below, that she is a mixed blessing at best ... and don't we move to IMplosive moves and cyclicize levers as Chas Campbell has proven abundantly feasible for the discerning eye ... when unblurred by the polarizing dialecticizing see-saw literacy/delirium (ink/drink) deviltry ....

prime example of how hazardous to your conscience the avoidance of duh hippy's body of thought# really is ... turns out down the line it becomes downright 'dangerous' to your 'natural born' (no such thing) sense of entitlements and notions of how hierarchies stack up.

i agree that democracy wields power, ... doing so by the lights of it's ability to bundle / crumple / uniform / hype / and stampede people into various forms of legalized mob justice. The age of mediated demagoguery isn't the worst the bible has to offer by a long shot but they're working on that, trust me .. and you are squarely on the wrong side of the equation for the most part.

> Interviewed live from the April 6 CERA conference on Far-Right Christian Anti-Indian Radio KGMI, Willman characterized tribes as casino bullies who now want half the water, stating that the only way to stop them is to strengthen states' rights and private property rights and get rid of Federal Indian Policy.

> A Special Report by Charles Tanner, Jr.
> On the heels of state approval of the Confederated Salish and Kootenai Tribes (CSKT) and State of Montana water compact, a leading national anti-Indian activist has moved to Ronan, Montana to continue the fight against the agreement. In July 2015 Elaine Willman – a longtime leader of Citizens Equal Rights Alliance (CERA) – explained that she was relocating because the compact was a United Nations influenced effort to institute socialism in the state, amounting to "The Revolutionary War for citizens of Montana." Leading up to the move, Willman established relationships with like-minded groups in the state and region and positioned CERA as the "Indian law expert" to a broader far right movement.

> PieNPolitics.com WE THE PEOPLE RADIO -- SiskiyouCountyWaterUsers.com
> Our 2nd guest: Mark Baird --- Today we are discussing the CA State Dept. of Fish & Game and a host of other agencies who impose regulations on landowners with regard to water. The loss of the recent Farm Bureau vs. Fish & Game case revisits the old battleground of 1602 permits for the "substantial alteration of a stream bed, bank or channel". At this time there is no legal definition of "substantial" so the agencies have a weaponized regulation with which to threaten and punish landowners as they see fit.
> This has a direct effect on water rights by reducing the legal water allotment that land owners use to irrigate their pastures and fields. If they choose not to get a permit they could face fines or jail. If they get the permit they admit that they need permission from an agency to exercise their water right. Farmers and ranchers believe this is a "water grab" by the State of California and if successful will create a major problem for the rest of the state, including municipalities that divert water for use by residents.

Kings with Straw Mats - Yogis and Sadhus of the Kumbh Mela Festival
Subsymmetric - 646,511 -- Published on Dec 20, 2014
In Kings With Straw Mats, Ira Cohen is both participant and observer to an extraordinary parade of people on pilgrimage into the heart of one of India's greatest sacred celebrations, the Kumbh Mela. With the eye of a filmmaker and the voice of a poet, Cohen introduces an array of holy men as they gather for the event, which occurs only once every 12 years. The Kumbh Mela traces its origin to a Hindu legend, which tells how four drops of the gods' holy elixir fell to earth from a "kumbh," or pitcher, during a battle with jealous demons fighting in the heavens. The celebration takes place at the point where the drops are said to have fallen to earth. The film examines the event's frenzied blend of showmanship, religious devotion, and madness. ---- 1986 Hardwar Kumbh Mela, released in 1998.

to what exactly does whitie owe his even now, despite the nowadays full frontally beleaguered and assaulted good repute and attraction? To Cernunnos*, an economist, a shaman / leader / inventor of the all round most beneficial profession ever, 'at home in all markets' as the dutch have it; a dude/type who coined his 'own' money; wether or not it showed his antlered mugshot stamped onto it, this was a dissolving tablet, a pellet, a piece of candy to 'spoil'[/feed] soil (imitating tracetransport of floodwaters), a 'currentsee' to spend on foundation / fundamentals.

LONELY WOMAN | Episode 2: Tap, Tap, Tap - Whitney Rice
too bad talented people of your ilk cannot or won't a: leave city life behind, b: refuse to think a line of thought thru to grounding / resolution for fear of seeming obsessive or something. They don't see country life as the place of tribal, clannish and bioregional scalability and treasure they, or more likely, their parents had wrested from them, desecratiously displaced, but rather as a place too scary and stuffy to make a go of it and too hard to get a likeminded but diverse crew together for .. .and so we carry on with the cult that globalizes more with each round and hellifies the lives to which the Whitney Rices of the world offer relief from burden and tedium with a measured to fit content calculatedly avoided provoking pangs of conscience. And they can easily make the 'me? modest private me?' deniabilty that they sold out to, profit from and do nothing against gathering of crowds, bundling of debts, etcetera plausible. All complaints of overpopulation are misguided critiques of cities, crowds and spectacles too large and fleeting to stay, let alone begin duh decent. in the noughties i repeated this a whole lot of times: thin minerals in rock (disperse, diffuse into compost), thin people in cities (disperse, diffuse into the countryside), thin trees in the forest (so they don't all get prevented from full stature by nearest but by definition not dearest neighbours).
Tell you what, do a vid making fun of permaculture and i'll buy you a bunch of very fancy fruittrees; grafted to 20 varieties so you don't get all the work at once and only one flavor, it's gonna suit your sense of complexity let's just assume.

> yesterday I wrote this about my father, who I remembered you said I shared a fate with according to the mayan calendar.. I was listening to mozart on the radio and began to weep..my father loves mozart, he is able to fall into states of djoy like Mozart, besides he's the first one who put me on the back of his motorcyle as we went barreling thru Kampala and over Kololo hill... I decided my father was a good person. i should be thankful - I am thankkful ... here he is, 80 yeaRS old, took a job for ninety days to help pay for the livlihood of his 84 year old mother in law and his anorexic daughter .. his job included convincing the church that he is substituting in, to vote against the carrying of guns into the church as they had just found that week a six year old wielding a pistol he had found in one of the ladies purses at the church..
> and my father is at the fore front of the debate trying to talk reasonablness into the common good of texans who insist on their right to bear arms even while praying the lords prayer... how have I dared to think so ill of him .. how?? I just read ecclesastes from start to finish ... im com[pletely humbled.. how often do you see your dad? does he live in houston? —- south austin ------- you MUST begin going more often ....

Ive been trying to all my life, til I was figuratively thrown up against a wall, head sliced off like Antigone or ann Boyleyn.. (Why did I try to emulate them since I was five years old, practicing walking PROUDLy to my execution?)
because I would come up against my Father so forcefully..that my only recourse would be to bow down on bended knee and worship him as my guru...because ones friends cold never execute you, behead you (me) like he did... (and one MUST be beheaded) .. so ive been with out a God (a father) for sometime now (and just thikn when I was five I wanted to be a saint) but in the separations from the Father forever I find god forever beyond my grasp and so I am his eternall servant..I must stay in permanent state of prayer .... and I found in my communication with you from the beginnig a resurfacing of my father.. a pathway to some undercurrent of invisible truth which your mayan calendar predicted..also something in YOU..something of this intangible father is in you.... forever.. but these things are so hard if not impossible to speak about..so we have to go under ground at the Spring and keep whispering to the unknown ones ... by the way..you've already seen the movie... its in the Chopin Third sonata third movement which I uploaded last wednesday or so...its that head swimming in the pool for one second at dawn..she rhymed with the rock a second later...the blue rock..the strangely magically tinted blue rock that the camera focused on ..... thank you for your seering interest in people and their hidden shadows and lonlinesses -- love Gudrune ...... I always thought that if I could solve the anger my parents wrought between them and me then I could begin to quell the seeds of war inside myself.. its my life long assignment .. to maintain a peaceful heart. Nothing else matters...Nothing...

never mind ..... but i'll prolly ask you again in a year or so .... my aunt was buried yesterday ... on a spectacular cloud day ... they were towering and spaced very evenly .. such that in places like holland or any elevation that is constant for long enough, cloud arrays like that WILL prove one of the 'flat earthers' contention (lost in haze rather than due to curvature, ... same thought that allows them to pretend the sun spins around halfway the pieflap's diameter and is too weak to get any of it's light to the other half ... something any night time trucker can kinda confirm, depending on local moisturization of course) is wrong ... cause you see the underside of those clouds curve towards the horizon very clearly (that's what a little atmospheric will do).

But the light did get thru anyway..an incredible light show in my dreams..other worldy light that spoke to me absolutely .. I'm sorry about your Tanti. What was her name? I'm glad you were there...

just heard from nephew about a long bearded guy who 'regressed' to the old fashioned profession of this region, braiding duck baskets (stuck on stilts which are pricked into shallow mud crosswise to bear these rotund breeding places) and turning rope .. he does it at small local fairs .. and has a few acres only half a mile away from my nephew ... who raised 4 boys in an old farm he remodeled with recycled woody bits. It's where i stored my bookstash for over 8 years. He has a few acres also but it's not open to the public .. he did sow an black (american) walnut as i asked him to back when then and it's a fine tree now but i stored mine along with the books and they dried out too much in that way too hot attic environs to sprout anymore now ... with all the awareness of waste around .. i actually contribute myself quite shamefully .. that much is obvious ... now they will serve for art projects, shaving / sanding them in ways that conjure faces out of the thus exposed ribs, which i've seen done by a guy who lived in a tipi by a french commune (couldn't find him on the net when i tried a couple of years ago, just a faint trace).

Silvia Federici: Gender and Democracy in the Neoliberal Agenda: Feminist Politics, Past and Present

SkriptaTV - 2K - 5,581 .. May 21, 2013 - 6th Subversive > festival 13/05/2013, 21:00h, cinema Europa -- Silvia Federici ''Gender and democracy in the Neo-liberal agenda: feminist politics past and present Moderator: Ankica ?akardi —- As feminism has been institutionalized and subsumed to the neo-liberal agenda in the name of democratization, a feminist critique of liberal democracy is more urgent than ever. Federici discusses the role this grand illusion has played in feminist politics and contrasts it with the contribution feminist movements have made to democracy intended as self-government and egalitarian division of the commonwealth.

> This is a completely crackpot economic theory. He completely ignores FX and doesn't understand how FX markets work at all. Taxes don't drive money and money is created in the banking system. The central bank basically acts as a clearinghouse. Government spending doesn't create/destroy money since Treasury bonds/bills aren't money. Taxes/government spending redistribute money. He also ignores the nonlinearity of debt service costs to tax revenues when government debts become very large, which creates major risks when governments run up large debts. Wray also doesn't understand that the value of a currency is the sum of the discounted PV of the future real interest rates, so when government debts are high and the only way to service the debt is to keep the short end rate near zero for longer and longer periods of time, the currency HAS to collapse. He's completely wrong on the historical aspect too.

> Käthe Kollwitz on Sacrifice, Mourning, and Reparation: An Essay In Psychoaesthetics
> The concept of sacrifice, grounded in the metaphysics of higher values, finds expression in social, religious, and artistic domains. In this essay, I explore the psychic roots of the sacrificial mystique by tracing it, with Melanie Klein, to early aggressiveness, mourning, and the desire for reparative actions. The works of German artist Käthe Kollwitz (1867-1945) and the entries in her diaries reveal how closely this mystique is knotted to mother-child iconography, the death-bearing mother alternating with idealized images of protective and loving figures. After she lost one of her sons at the outset of the First World War, Kollwitz struggled to disengage herself from the metaphysics of sacrifice to embrace the forceful pacifism of the tower of mothers. The question remains whether Kollwitz's maternalism is a foil for the sacrificial mystique. ---- MLN_101.5 (1986; Centennial Issue), 1110-34. - JSTOR

Cernunnos in Slovenia?--- Marjeta ŠAŠEL KOS Abstract -- A tombstone with seven busts (second or early third century AD), which was most > probably discovered at ?rnomelj in Bela Krajina, displays poorly visible side reliefs. On the right side a human figure with horns and hooves and a dog trying to bite his thigh are depicted. On the left a horseman holding a spear is represented in the upper field, while in the lower part three figures are depicted, of whom the middle one is a woman; a man with a spear is standing in front of her. Peter Petru explained the badly preserved figures as scenes referring to the Celtic god Cernunnos and to human sacrifice performed in his honour. However, these depictions would better correspond to the episodes from the myth of Actaeon.

yesterday a thought began ripening in me and guess what ... you guessed it right ... i am taking responsibility for yet another worldwide attitude virus / vice, something i do obsessively and incessantly which looks bad from a distance, let alone up close and of which a superficialized / kitschified version becomes fringe culture i am talking about my 'holding fire' till sure fire opps appear in my viewfinder ... but as usual, and as became a ritual early on, recounting adventures when returning home grimey and sometime disease of at least lice ridden, never ever turned away .... i was always dismissive about ... well not in the first place, in the beginning of my tales i hilit (hilighted?) the inspiring sides of times here and there but quickly added summations of drawbacks and turn away reasons which were and felt like backhanded compliments for the way my parents found relative peace the way they slugged thru life quite proudly .. or as proud as being a village christian commuting distance from the then greatest harbour in the world permits (compassionate and generous towards the ill, poor and handicapped, resigned about the evils of zionized christianity, never maturing to 'anything but that').

i am talking of course about a 'community' on the internet specialized in calling hoax / false flag / set-up, drill gone live .. and you name the remaining gamut of conspiratorial yarns me ... contender for the containment of collective guilt i know ... volksmenner, volksmeneer, volksverhetzer, volk roeper (i used to make that 'volluuuuuk' delivering thinly sliced breadmeats; and giving everybody a dose)

ps to liam (on RSI): my own experiences thus far: i've had several, beginning with mouse buttons in the 90s, an elbow that felt 'sick' from cold pulling up into it, caused by bad posture habit (hangin around until discovered, leaning on despair, elbow parked by a keyboard, left hand holding jaw) in the nineties. The most tenacious tendon issue thus far sounds like yours and endured for over half a year affecting my entire left arm (including hand) and part of my neck (it is proving willing to play up again lately)

Solutions that worked for me: suspending a rope by my laptop to switch from lean to hang part of the time; i was unable to raise my arm as normal for a long time and when i finally focused on it determinately enough, solutions were found and easy, as usual:

lie down and make circular motions with arm until ground is reached again; take one of the 'schuessler salts' (number 7, the one w magnesium).

the only excuse valid for getting away with not staying rooted is excellence at rootING (specially if you reintroduce it after long hiatus or pioneer). Again, this is the betrayed grounding aspect of conquests.

agression is as natural as all other natural functions, it can be expressed 2 ways: NEGATIVE - counterproductively, as a lie, connivance, and hypocrisy; excecuted in a skulking scowly claustrophobic and choked fashion etc .... POSITIVE + done well it DOESN'T PUT TO BUT PULLS FROM 'DEATH' ('DEAD' bedrock .. an awful lot shows from mistreatment and most of it rises higher than we know what to do with or appreciate) ... results in joyous fraternization with all of creation ...... be agressive when it comes to feeding 'microlives' ... welcome and defend miniscule and tender rootholds at the start / bottom links of life around you.

29th of april .... new wave (11th)

happy family i just stumbled into trying to find people that were already spinning rocks on top of each other ... so i could go join them instead of starting from scratch (yup, will prolly never beat THAT disease, though it keeps me failing and flailing).

the sun just threw the last possible rays of the day my way ... and i moved a 50s picture of my parents into the beams ... it's been a constantly overcast day otherwise.

anthroposophist aura soma was the theme of the week (since the 'red queen' [stephanie south] is going to be their for doot this year). Typical woo but ascribed all sorts of significance.

you can net and plot all you want but if appropriately fed into the 'loop' dust is not the product, all you have is the spin of abstractions, pretty fetishbaubles and kiddy/mommy pastimes; o so comforting if they happen to be far away from the constantly shifting frontlines long enough.

here's my notes for them (they double in the j e double few pile):
THIS IS KINDA SHOCKING .... though familiar with Fell since the mid nineties, i had no idea he condoned, applauded and sanctified the old sensationalist and spoilt dandy templar commands (invade, migrate, colonize), listen to Douglas Dietrich on the beginnings of the american airforce to get an idea of the type of heir to fortunes this criminal congregation are made up of and what they get up to ... apportionment of loot and the like, toting a bag of heritage stealing goal post moving tricks* .... precursor to fullblown mass events, real satantic spectacles. i had never heard or read him sermonizing like this before .... although i knew he associated with preachers and parsons a suspicion kindling lot.

> Ancient America - Harvard Prof. Barry Fell & "America B.C." - FULL Docu. On Book -- American Mysteries & Conspiracies > +Rocks-to-Earth-SPInner - There is NO such thing as an "Indian monopoly" on ancient America, many races and groups were here in prehistoric times, the Kennewick Man remains and much more recent DNA tests have confirmed this. There is no such thing as "invading and migrating" to somewhere whites and blacks and Asians have been for many thousands of years. You seem to think each continent had only one race which is total non sense. Fell was Jewish too though, which may explain why he focused more on Hebrew inscriptions rather than Canaanite, Phoenician, Roman, etc....

you are trying hard to sound sensible and i appreciate that, plus there's no denying diffusion but jews are predator worshippers and their tactics are (and will be unless re[s]trained): to follow, feed and stampede herds, period. Results? Fucking the colours over like a sandmandala that gets swept into a heap ... .. so get out of you denial and realize the horror of nearly all 500 distinct and integral tribes genocided over pathetic excuses. big bad take away from last nite's odd set of dreams the freebox and the lady who brushed her very firm nipples up against me and after i stared down someone walking up (expecting a jealous [ex]partner or something, lost interest and joined a crowd ... which i kinda did in the next segment where i proved to be loaded with tat to the point of ridiculous) .. when you are a hitch hiker ... which is true to my very own life .. though i did not recognize the items nor what i would have picked up those particular one for exactly ... then there's a segment where much to do with cows features big, inhuman farming and all that ... the sight of a chick which failed to make it out of it's egg completely* is mixed up with it

* - as i saw on the odd holiday resort in B, a square decapitated windmill with a little house next to it, rented out by the owners, the garagist, son of the one my dad financed after a fire ... or wait, was it the other way around? dad borrowed to buy the butchershop maybe? he was awful gentle, a bicycle repair man ... the son was a tad rougher, his wife his strangely huge and drives taxi ... his business looks exactly the way his father kept it, ooo soooo strangely comforting to enter that place (garage vlot)

AV keeps lots of animals in the old 'gemaalmolen' .. set back from the road 200 meters, he has a brother who likes nothing better than poaching and they used to come around fishing for pike when i was a kid ... they caught loads .... but i caught him spraying roundup and no matter how much i tried to gently berate him (without actually referring to the dead chick and the pike, meanwhile decimated a few times over).

a hard set of questions i want to ask myself:
new neighbours come .. perhaps ..to do an assasination ritual attracted by precedent ...
iow, in how far is my moving with my mother 9 years ago and 7 years officially (a first housing registration since .. maybe back in Seattle when i had those [im]migration troubles in the early eighties) an attempt to see if i can exorcise the ´jewist isolationish (to gather but a part .. which sounds like a perfectly 'permassible principle on the face of it) penchant'??

THAT tat certainly was part of her 'crystal dog' baggage, waaay to constrained by societal pressures to find her way back to complete autonomy ('onszelf helemaal bedruipen' is the wrong way of saying 'ons helemaal zelf bedruipen' .. it means the type of sovereignty that succeeds down to the most fundamental market {{{hustle / tustle \ bustle}}} 'spoiling 'self[sufficient]ishness').

Her habit of not betraying enthusiasm for my finds and offerings -- out of perhaps fear she would seem too partial, as already her attitude invited frowns and was under perpetual scrutiny for keeping me away from so much of what the world degenerates and overheats into: vulgar and harsh bullshitwillimposery -- was consistent until the end ... i mean if she had any admiration for my talents to stumble across acresusa.com she hid it well.

That monthly still goes, as i visited Roshilde and helped her cart a few wheelbarrows of horseshit onto her lot, which was chill enough that day to make her the only gardener there, or just before it rather i visited the Uni library to see quickly leaf through a few issues ... gratifyingly enough they still write about rockdust .. i even remember the writer's name: affert ... oops nope ...

> Eco-Farming Daily - Acres USA
> www.acresusa.com/eco-farming-daily
> by Rich Affeldt Organic and sustainable farmers have long relied on rock dust as an all-natural way to improve roots systems, increase yields and promote ...

-- the sort of thing that is now, still, years after the grand move and fusion of departments at the diabolic dutch ag uni (wageningen / wur.nl, i have shared a pic of their panopticon central library on google plus early on, right after beginning to use it) leader of the pack (due to it's alphabetic ranking of all the trade mags fund rags and sundry propa they keep on 'permisplay').

"mind crushing burden of choice"
Beware the Information Overlord
Andrew Neuendorf

i was a pioneer / pilot / pirate in 'overexposing' myself to choices (mainly by means of libraries, and then their digital extensions from 95 forward - tailend of 'usenet') and have thus become an inverse vaccine, a wonder potion for almost instant access to the best of the best (although youtube has made their lists so unattractive [in a disturbingly tiny space of timewindoooooozzzz] that i am almost ashamed to say i have at least a liddul sumthing to show for it all) and i am certainly not the only one though our forces bundled is nowhere to be seen as yet (permaculture and 'CREST' communities being rare and none between) .. but listening to you making it sound like there isn't even the 'logicotheoretical' chance of us existing, let alone valueing, much less highly ... disturbs and chills me.

Douglas Dietrich wasting precious time letting his crazies out ... i challenge him to race me to the next nearest gravity wheel ....
there actually is a simply truth - swaddled and circumscribed in an excruciatingly circuitous and roundabout fashion - on this edition of CC, i'd like to hilite and that is: to be able to understand perpetual motion principles you have to have the patience and low to the ground mindfulness cultivated well enough to 1}: see the grass grow (which i only succeeded doing this, my 57th year - without ever trying very much though) and 2}: understand all sorts of similar miniscule incrementation / graduation \ slidey/slippy processes and principles ... WITHOUT letting get lower needs pull you into the personification \X/ 'anthromorphoc[fuk?]ation' phase and get stalled there (think i'll use \X/ as a sig from now on, something nicely distinct, ... like the one that ugly indy urban champlain guy w editor privs used [simpdh] = searchable in my personal digital history).
I had safety valves: rockdust and hot water, a rivershore, some spit, the hi learnin of loved lonelliness, the eye for all good's creatures ... did you know gaud means trick, prank, fraud, artifice?

Nobody listened, let alone jumped onboard (admittedly, even if all those, who like me considered emigration --- from Holland multiple times, reviewing and sampling a plethora of opps but deciding against it a generation [15 years] later -- did likewise, we'd still be mere drops in the fuckETbuck[ET], .. but with a better chance of being the tipping ones).

The Psycho Records - Laurence Rickels - Wallflower Press
The Psycho Records follows the influence of the primal shower scene within subsequent slasher and splatter films. American soldiers returning from World War II were called "psychos" if they exhibited mental illness. Robert Bloch and Alfred Hitchcock turned the term into a catch-all phrase for a range of psychotic and psychopathic symptoms or dispositions. They transferred a war disorder to the American heartland. Drawing on his experience with German film, Hitchcock packed inside his shower stall the essence of schauer, the German cognate meaning "horror." Later serial horror film production has post-traumatically flashed back to Hitchcock's shower scene. In the end, though, this book argues the effect is therapeutically finite. This extensive case study summons the genealogical readings of philosopher and psychoanalyst Laurence Rickels. The book opens not with another reading of Hitchcock's 1960 film but with an evaluation of various updates to vampirism over the years. It concludes with a close look at the rise of demonic and infernal tendencies in horror movies since the 1990s and the problem of the psycho as our most uncanny double in close quarters.

> In Michael Lewis's game-changing bestseller, a small group of Wall Street iconoclasts realize that the U.S. stock market has been rigged for the benefit of insiders. They band together—some of them walking away from seven-figure salaries—to investigate, expose, and reform the insidious new ways that Wall Street generates profits. If you have any contact with the market, even a retirement account, this story is happening to you.

Americans imagine that they're free, or that they have a right to be free. Health advocates, the medical infrastructure and the government all tell us they're here for our freedom. We think we have a Declaration of Independence and Constitution which guarantee our freedoms. But it's all a big joke... In other words, yet another person without the common sense and shame to urge repatriation, failing to counsel a dissemble and vacate an occupier status (of black and white regarding red) to let the rightful owners begin to repair, regrow and reburgeon. In other words, yet another person who has never heard of the red race.

larnin / internalization of 'the scroll of apathy' accepted by the heroine when it is the last straw of hope [supernaturally empowering her] to save a partner she is locked up with. The price is forgetting him, losing memory regards the love object. Hero dives after her into the abyss she is being pulled into by his nemesis during the final fights .. then follows the final but yet another sequence of the stars gazing at each other .. something the chinese viewership, most of whom are 'spoeglelijk' of course, making money over the backs of others reflected in their souls and visages, eats up and can indulge for astounding stretches of time, to purge them of the self-awareness their mirrors throw back at them i guess.
The stars are always as atypical as possible, being selected for striking looks as everywhere for just this purpose; an extreme example is gillian [gill] who prostitutes herself as the shopwindow doll she is; 11mirror by the way; i could send you some notes on her if you want. Here's the short version: Her 7 figure salary for acting turned into maintaining that lifestyle via silicone implant adverts after her star[dom] plummeted due to falling for a stud colleague, who took down a whole bunch like her, or his hacker did, or an ex of his did.

1h 4th minute, right after the horseback sex scene, a first time after a lifetime of hi arts achievement and comraderie, even as love and political intrigues cut to damn near the very vitals, mowing people down left and right, execution by quick drying limefoam or some such shite macabre sculpting included; decadent luxuries displayed all the time, unlike the suffering of common folk over who's back this talent hunt takes place, glimpsed in the 2 other films i took in over the last few days, this happens:
emperor plays chess over the 10 occupied tibetan cities in order to facesavingly 'lose' them

... apparantly there's regions where people have it so much too good they push out clusters of surplus ... desecrators of burialmounds and vegetation of their scapegoats when they can finally draw beads of them .. after exposure to lifethreatening hardships traversing previously ruined scapes of course ..... then there's the regions that make livings selling their sons (under the guise of helping them study abroad of course, making 'it' (noooooo, not the backyard) 'big' .. or ..) surely there are those, really worthless at keeping army recruiters who supply the filmset with horses, victuals and 'playactivictims' out/down cause the faroff benefitters profit from total blanket misinfo, having been succesfully habituated to not suffering the embarrasment of taking their injured wounded, damaged and deranged vets back. .. Just like they separated parents from offspring in their livestock. Let's call that 'Stockholmitis+' (think plus lowlands, a worse bane to the world than babylon and egypt combined, never mind the chinese who simply dessicate the fuck out everything before we white 'semitosed'

when it's over, a minute and some s later, we see the 50.000 horsemen and hear a few well placed tibetan horn blasts .. which do sound at the very beginning of the movie if i am not mistaken. .. ps: i am, it's a faint one in the 8th minute .. but the one ii am thinking of is in the opening scene of the bingbing whitehaired witch movie. .. > Roundup, and it's main ingredient, glyphosate, is one of the most widely used herbicide in the world. But what was it originally created for? Don Huber discusses that and how the chemical works to kill plants. If it does that to plants, what does it do when residue gets into animals and humans who consume those crops? You might find the history and function of roundup is surprising!

to the extent people can't face the fact that america's cultural backdrop is the animal farm model, they are tempted/likely to project it on animals and excempt themselves .. which is inexcusable .. specially if they cherry pick facts or overemphasize personal trauma at the expense of objective turf&tab.

you act like the chinese have every right to disqualify, downgrade and dissolve the tibetan plateau way of life (which might be therapeutic for the likes of you).. cause you think their's no valid way to husband animals (as they say, awkward i know .. but if there's a wide swath of non-domestication i can truely appreciate it); i personally prefer the music of these people over most others. Not that i wouldn't wanna help them graduate to treeculture but they live above the treeline remember? It would take massive domes of hempplast, hot compost and it's not in the cards for a good while, though doable.

In the meantime, vegan tactics like yours might well provide the metastatization of the worst presentday feminism has to 'offer'. Beware.

http://shout.lbo-talk.org/lbo/RadioArchive/2015/15_11_26.mp3 her main focus is gender in sports (with bleed outs and lead ins to politics .. let's call it perfarts) and i challenge you to judge the degree of abjectness in the scenes we see in this here docu and the ones she paints .. of the personalities ritually split - and made bribable / held in place [between] lines of upper command - between the homo erotics and homo phobias by a internal space partitioning displacement that condemns a part of oneself along with the outside world ... which, though she is not mentioning it, has metastatized into paedophilia upstream as much as and keeping pace with the sickering down into mainstream of the 'leading' lifestyles (propped up by fratboy culture she reports on, the gender disphoria of choice for empire feeders).

i was turned off by her jargon quite a lot .. but a literalized person (check that Cndn man Cayley's radio series i shared a good while ago) is a lateralized one and not even permaculture can cure us .. at least not in the grades and strengths we see it attain so far .. a kind of Moses status can be in the cards though.

> So, as my view my differ from yours, and my considerations and theories are not yours, I am an ungrateful person? Or am I an ingrate due to your perception of me as lesser than you?? My comment to you is based on your comment showing intentional consideration of all other beings being blind and you are the only one that sees. I went to your channel. I found the information beyond what I consider relevant to the practicalities of the common man. I am sure that it is useful for some. Your comment HERE is my consideration. You want the only stick in the fire to be yours is what I am getting. Otherwise you would speak in plain language. I do not agree with your assessments. A great line from a poem I perform regularly : "You choose to confuse and use words you peruse but do not fuse into thoughts, so as to bemuse and then accuse, others of being lesser."

Well done RT. Putin has no qualms about showing his people up for the reckless exploiters they are 'by nature', and shaming them into taking better care. Using dragnets ruined the seafloor vegetation, which brought all the shallows ashore and turned the place into a desert, the entire and once very productive and populated coast / shore area now has only 200 people left. Also, do you think Putin&Co are trying to give sublte hints to jihadis and refugees?

The prize was welcome, but to receive it from Putin's hands was unthinkable. Boland wouldn't let himself be used as a cultural sop for politics that he abhorred. Luckily he wasn't punished for it but was awarded the Martinus Nijhoff Prize for his complete translation oeuvre shortly afterwards.

> Europe, here we come! Defying the crisis and the faintheartedness - we believe in it and want to show it: a Europe of opportunity, which summarizes different languages, cultures and traditions into a confident political community, which matures from the competition of the national states to a cooperation between regions. That allows equal opportunities , different speeds and identities under the umbrella of a strong European Republic! European integration was yesterdays' word, European democracy is tomorrows'.

> Cernunnos is probably the most famous yet least understood of the Celtic gods. Like the other Gaulish gods, he's left us no mythology, only images. If we want to know what sort of god he was, then, there's no alternative to sitting down with those images and looking closely. When we do, we discover some amazing things, the most important of which is that what we thought about him was wrong.

> Published on Jul 4, 2016 ------------- In this episode of Newsbud's Spotlight with Sibel and Spiro we delve deeper into the supposed mastermind of the Istanbul Airport Terror Attack and Operation Gladio B's creation: Akhmed Chatayev. Our Newsbud Analyst Christoph Germann joins us from Germany to provide further analysis on his article published today portraying Chatayev. Together we examine Chatayev's background, including his capture during the Second Chechen War in the late 90s, his refuge in Azerbaijan, his residence and arrests in Austria, Sweden, Ukraine and Bulgaria, his handlers in Georgia, and later his base in Turkey, which lasted until 2015. We then contextualize all intakes within the broader picture: Operation Gladio B & Synthetic Terrorism.

> Professor Hamamoto obtained his education at CSU Long Beach, Bowling Green State University and UC Irvine. As part of the ASA faculty, he sees his experience at UC Davis as "the most rewarding experience in my checkered career in academia." In addition, he perceives the students as bright self-starters. He believes that the ASA program helps students understand and transform our world into more of a democracy by raising awareness and issues of the US Empire, white supremacy and class society. Currently, he is working on many articles and books related to his research. His special interests include music, film, television, basketball, and gerbil derby.

> The Origins of Religion- liamscheff - 2,023 - 136Vs - Jul 18
> Religion arises from habits - and habits arise from the demands of local geography and energy (that is, food availability). Our habits in adapting to a particular geography and climate, and its food sources, become remembered in custom. Custom is wrapped, over time, with new stories and a priestly class, in ritual; and ritual is canonized as religion. The gods are added later for emotional and psychological effect.

a book about cannibalism by Oscar Kiss Maerth came my way when i was 16, it anchored my thinking; the other side of pop. pressures caused the patriarchalizations, monocultures, shames and the stuff James DeMeo is on about. I have the antidote too .. and some hope Liam will reach the depth of grounding that makes grinding rock imperative as well .. but it won't be via comments cause he's too snobby about them. If at all, it'll have to be under his own steam or bust.

next vid has more warshoptalk, careful, slippery when schiz .. i mean ...
liam hides the irony suspicously well when he's on about jews as greatest victims and best peoples ... is he a refugee or a colonizer when leaving UR, egypt .. the 109 places they were Oy Vey expelled from?? (buy cheap, sell dear, serve all, dilute and disguise the bad with the good .. if you don't know evil you can't know good and if you don't sell unethical products you'll never get rich).

the silt settles out updam, the very stuff that 'causes' (and carries) so much life (not down- but PRE!!!dam). Once weavewaivering megalomorons keep the silt from washwirling down by dam or dyke, they open the doors of misperception ... to thoughts and times so twisted and torturous , no pen has accurately bundled the evidence and followed strings of reverb to uplands as high as the MeKong source until they seriously weigh in on the silt/soil issue.

I'd like to have a word with that man ... but i guess he's not a 'social mediator'?

However, according to the Oxford English Dictionary these are pronounced differently: the ‘u’ in the singular is as the ‘u’ in datum, whereas the plural has an ‘u’ as in tune.

i visited wageningen at least twice a year with overnites for 10, then more often and finally tried to make a go of becoming a teacher of some sort there (avoiding official channels). If things had gone a little better this might have worked. As is, the organic ag faculty (never more than a few barracks attached to the grassland research dept) was dissolved due to 'complete integration', Acres USA, a sub to which i suggested succesfully 25? years ago, is now at the very beginning of the alphabetical arranged melange of periodicals from all faculties in the panopticon library of the new and now corrallable complex ... and i? i sit in a very monocultural village in a house stuffed and brimming with books ... clicking vids into playlist all day and nite long .... (10 thousand of them by now) and ... if you dig around in my older work ('churn' of the millenium) you'll find more elaborate analysis of this: the cover of a 1917 book titled 'das deutsche volk in schwere zeiten' by austrian officer (and heimatliterator) Hans Rudolf (or vice versa) Bartsch shows a sword in rock .. and a climber spiralled up it .. underneath a sun ...... it deals largely with an ideal version of migrant labour which muffle and dim entgleisungen en schoonheidsfoutjes, the 'praise' of and lament over which our dear MSM never lack bloodmoney to sing.

My thoughts have since evolved towards grinding rock on rock rather than using diamond studded dickery .. but no matter .. it may interest you ... also, judging from fresh vid, it seems you might benefit from pausing who and whatever you are permanently / chronically mourning (believe me i am trying to give myself this advice at the same time so humor/mirror me willya?) and going on a summercamp of some sort: actioncamps, activist camps, the ZAD in Nantes (to polish up your french) or one of these to perfect your dutch:

gone absolutely nowhere, .. my offering a ride on indymedia to europe's most gaping and shamefull hole got zilch response ... but i didn't actually expect them to let it stand, the antifa crowd running my former haunts is not improving with age and i said so (the 'cover up gestapo' was there, in the name of SJW demands) ... so, guess i'm not up for goin again, .. not there .. perhaps not anywhere, .. except in my dreams ... woke up with a vivid close up of a redhead with a short chin and a straight prickly and long stubble who told me that had their been no controversy over her looks at a new location i would have found the place completely gutted and moved .. there were other bits .... i cannot believe how merciful this year is, almost always veiling the sun after brief intensity spikes ... the way i remember weather from my youth .. with never a worry about sunstroke ... which i didn't even ever get in Saud sands .. despite no headgear that i can remember.

yesterday i made my first succesfull 'milktap' run, to a farm within 10 clicks along one of the always very short 'middle of nowhere' 80c/h straight roads that were placed during the large top down redivision push, begun when i was pre-teen.
the 2 big marquis tent used for the annual bible week are going down again today; one of their games had them test hospitality in the neighbourhood and i had 8 schoolkids in the livingroom for 15m taking a language lesson, .. i played them 20s of a Douglas Dietrich interview.
Shame on them to not avail themselves of my life story much much more. Raised in their very church, kept an eye on religions around me during travels, returned .. but for them i went astray permanently and only an attitude of contrition and fallinstep could get me back in their graces.

One of the farmers around here who exceeds best in monoculturation, no herb diversity allowed in his field, has absolutely miserable looking beasts, but the sister of the young who 'cares' for them pulls up her nose at my yarns, for instance how the used rosemary shampoo water stays really fragrant and useable to wash the floor days later, whereas non herbal soapy water would have rotten in that space of time.

> Freedom and Thymotic Politics in Sloterdijk
> Peter Sloterdijk has written extensively about the political function of thymós (the spirited part of the soul in Plato's three-fold schema of intellect-spirit-appetite). Here his reflections on that term open onto a discussion of freedom (libertatem). It turns out the liberals and neo-liberals are getting it wrong.

> This term [thymós] referred to an inner affective centre that motivates people to reveal themselves to their social surroundings as owners of giving virtues. Yes: thymós, as a liberal mentality of the giving life, offers the only declaration of freedom that has nothing to fear from any naturalistic reduction to exogenous causes and neurological conditions. People have usually searched for freedom in places where one cannot possible find it—in the will, in the act of choice or in the brain—and overlooked its origin in the noble disposition, in uplift, in generosity.

Daniel says "you have praised the gods of silver, and gold, or bronze, iron, wood, and stone, which do not see, nor hear, nor know. And you have not glorified the God in whose hand is your breath and all your ways."

> As it turns out, one of my antagonists in the comment threads here is an agent provocateur of some *(ill)*repute. This Alphonse character is actually a woman named Molly Klein, an heiress and daughter of the former president of NBC. She makes it her mission to attack Marxists who disavow identitarian politics.

> It would not really matter that Penfield was an American neuro-scientist who came to Canada and ended up as "the greatest living Canadian" -- he became a Canadian citizen while bringing Rockefeller million$$ to McGill in 1932, thereby upgrading the university's image and opening its doors to the secretive military research for which it is now notorious. But I do think it's relevant to state that he trained in the US, and also worked for the military, as did his son who was in military intelligence during WW2 -- making the MKULTRA links all the more obvious. Canada and Quebec were human laboratories for this kind of research, which would be hard to get away with elsewhere, and McGill's status as a research institute is imho due to its willingness to collaborate with criminal networks embedded in the world of science and technology.

> says right here: "Obama laid out the priorities of the American response: ensuring the safety of US citizens in Haiti; deploying search and ...rescue teams; and providing food, water and medical assistance to the affected population. [no footnote. take Kittenz word] He announced ...an initial disbursement of $100 million, concluding solemnly, "To the people of Haiti, we say clearly, and with conviction, you will not be forsaken; you will not be forgotten. In this your hour of greatest need, America stands by you." Is this the paragraph he's insisiting resports the siege > the US laid to Haiti? I can't imagine so, but he says it's on this page. Ok let's go to the next paragraph: "At that moment, Haiti's once vast and empty sky filled with foreign planes and helicopters, the rolling Port au Prince bay with grey warships...

> So the most curious disinfo appears here to be Katz; claims that MSF arrived when the organization rather insisted that it's flights were turned away by the US occupier not only on the 14th, when Kittenz reports them landing, but for many days after.
> Compare MSF eyewitness participant account to Katz', its quite clear how much he is covering up for his US sponors
> While doctors are purchasing ordinary saws at the hardware store to perform amputations because of US blockade, Katz lauds the "compassion" of the US invasion and simply flatly denies that the delivery of aid from ngos and international governments was blocked by US siege.
> That would imply that the US wasn't delivering aid as well. But my main critique is that "aid" was the wrong frame.

> Abstract:
> Apple Z. Igrek explores an influential line of reasoning associated with our contemporary loss of the Real. The argument describes how the contingencies and nuances of social life have been reduced to an operational, friction-free, and homogeneous realm of signs. Slavoj Žižek contends that our inherently traumatic relationship with the Other is being foreclosed and replaced by an omnipresent technological screen of virtual communication. The danger of this shift, identified as the "digital break," is that it facilitates an extraordinary form of divine violence which strikes back at the social system > originally intended to eradicate all things abnormal and destructive. Drawing on H.P. Lovecraft's horror fiction, Igrek proposes another way of thinking through these interrelated motifs of technology, fear, social media, and abject otherness. Instead of presuming a virtual demarcation between radical ambivalence and its allencompassing, catastrophic assimilation, Igrek suggests that the predominant conceptualization of this so-called rupture is fraught with inconsistencies.

> Also referred to as the "lungs of Europe", sucking in vast quantities of carbon dioxide and turning it into oxygen, the forests are being illegally logged due to high demands of timber from western companies including Austrian firm Holzindustrie Schweighofer.
> Companies such as Schweighgofer are turning to gangsters to source the wood.

> L A Rickels, professor of German and comparative literature at the University of California, Santa Barbara. His books include The Devil Notebooks, The Vampire Lectures and the forthcoming I Think I Am: Philip K. Dick (Minnesota 2010). He talks with us about the ascent of the vampire in popular culture; the popularity of Twilight; and "psycho violence" in horror cinema.
> Q: I enjoyed your Artforum article on HBO's True Blood series. Why do you think so many films, TV series and mass-market books about vampires (True Blood, Twilight, Cirque du Freak: The Vampire's Assistant, and Vampire Diaries, to name a few) have been popping up lately? Perhaps in uncertain times like these, there's likely to be a heightened interest in the posthuman human and/or the undead?
> A: There are (at least) two developments supporting the return of the vampire. The first is that the vampire's return displaces (from the screen) the dominance of zombie films we watched throughout the Bush years. The recent Zombieland is the diminishing return as farce of the tragedy that â€œEight Years Laterâ€? we now must recognize: we thrilled to our survival through killing ambulatory corpses. Itâ€™s possible to argue that there was a generalized PTSD afflicting Americans during those years, with the actual cases back from Afghanistan and Iraq at the front of this line.

That will bring TRILLIONS out of Money Markets as confidence in the markets returns, much like as in 1933 when the Democrats originally brought it...... Despite what the GOP screamers are saying about Clinton's signing the removal, the real power to remove in 1999 came from the veto-proof Republican majority under the enabling legislation known as Gramm/Leach/Blyley, all powerful Republicans.....

> Jacksonâ€™s views regarding American Indians also challenged the law. Treaties were and continue to be legal agreements among sovereign nations. However, Jackson refused to believe that Native American tribes were sovereign and thus viewed Indian treaties > as an absurdity. Ultimately, he forcibly removed a number of tribes, most notoriously the Cherokee, from their homes. The Trail of Tears is one of Jacksonâ€™s most infamous legacies. Yet even removal and issues of tribal sovereignty fit within a larger context of Jacksonâ€™s convictions regarding national security and state sovereignty. The generalâ€™s rise was due to his success as an Indian fighter on the frontier. He always, and to some extent legitimately, viewed American Indians as a serious threat to settlers. As president, Jackson understood the sentiment of southern states and their conception that states could not be erected within sovereign states such as Georgia. All of this, of course, revolved around the larger issue of Native American dispossession and who rightfully owned of the land. This ideologicalâ€”and to some extent legalâ€”issue remains unresolved.

> As someone who knows Rachel Kleinfeld (and her family) I can see that she developed Samantha Power syndrome fairly early on, but sheâ€™s not sneaky or dishonest. Her life-long interest in human rights nowadays leans towards supporting the nasty American â€œbomb for human rights/feminism/Western values/democracyâ€? mentality, but when the Truman Project started it was â€œweâ€™ll lose elections until we bring back the Scoop Jackson crowd.â€? I agree the Truman Project is a natural fit for the Clintons, and obviously itâ€™s going to seek to influence the Democratic primaries as much as possible â€" doing that is in its mission statement. I think this is a little sinister and sensationalistic, only because the world of advisers and organizers is surprisingly small. Dew should be evaluated on her merits or what look to be lack of same. I agree it would be prudent for the Sanders campaign to vet better, and I would definitely not want people associated with a pro-Clinton think tank. Where do you draw the line, though? Your choices can start narrowing rapidly. The whole system is pretty dodgy.

Offensiv Experimentell - Rickels
i cleaned up a portion of the transcript, from the 19th minute forward, immediately before that we hear how a poet surrenders his personal narcissism to win audience participation ... "the sacrificed narcissism of the daydreamer, Sacks concludes, is reborn as the poet's desire for the beauty of his work"

a few great bits on popular comics and impossible consummations follow ... then ... 19:00:

> relying on Freud's understanding of humor Sacks interprets beauty as the height of reconciliation on a scale of sublimation. The supplemental severity of the superego, which provoking anxiety and guilt, trails the sublimation of sex and violence, does not enter into the conditions for the creation of the feeling of beauty.
> 19:20
> I quote: "by bribing the superego with the narcissistic satisfaction which the poet offers .. ehm, .. offers it, he insures its active participation, this makes every destructive critical attitude of the superego against the ego impossible and prepares the basis on which beauty is built. what is being apportioned off, diluted and callibrated as stabilizer via beauty would be the death drive itself.

19:51
Sacks again: "the benevolent activity at the Super Ego slightly infuses into the play of ego and ID tendencies, something of the character of the death instinct.
20:05
Beauty is a quest that attends and attenuates the objective of interested motility while leading in its purity to immobility and quiescence. The presence of death makes itself felt in the sadness of beauty.

20:19
Although it appears that in mass culture beauty according to Sacks must be kept in quarantine like an infectious disease because what the consumers are after is not beauty but interest in action, yet everywhere, Sacks continues: we see people snatching bits of beauty, radio, movies, glamour girls, magazine covers, funnies, thrilling love stories, they all show trivial attenuated form of beauty mixed with a great many other things but some grain of beauty is never missing.

Pure beauty, Sacks argues, gives a feeling of expansion, not however toward other people but toward miraculous isolation, in the proper doses and properly blended however, beauty arouses energy.
Energy is key in creative unconscious .. Sacks argues technology resolves the crisis that antiquity deferred - the era responsible for the Apollo of belvedere and the venus of mile was able to defer development from primary body base narcissism to secondary narcissism, in which the contest between ego and superego or self-criticism, leaves the body's suit of self-love behind but trailing just the same as it's negative theology.
21:46
The psychotic reenact this history but on fast-forward in the emergency mode, he overstayed the welcome of primary narcissism and entered the crisis of uncannyness, the breaking point of the psychosis but then delusion foregrounding technological controls can proffer rescue and recovery.
we have come full circle then. within the mass media publication of our wishes, unfulfilled by the diluted injection and removal of beauty but converted thus into the energy that sustains thought.

> This is John Harland's monumental book Word Controlled Humans - A Brief History (1981) which focuses on processes that turn individual humans into monstrous group organisms which usually end with disastrous consequences. It examines "civil" and "religious" groups growing into powers by destruction of individual souls and control of individual will which ultimately ends in endless horror and suffering of millions who decide to "sell their souls" to some charismatic leader or an almighty deity.

> Conclusion: As it has previously mentioned, this Court does not lightly countenance any depredation of lands that hold significance to the Standing Rock Sioux. Aware of the indignities visited upon the Tribe over the last centuries, the Court scrutinizes the permitting process here with particular bcare. Having done so, the Court must nonetheless conclude that the Tribe has not demonstrated that an injunction is warranted here. The Court, therefore, will issue a contemporaneous Order denying the Plaintiffs' Motion for Preliminary Injunction. -- JAMES E. BOASBERG - United States District Judge - Date: September 9, 2016

> Travel video about destination Molens van Kinderdijk in Netherlands. -- Twenty kilometres east of the large Dutch port of Rotterdam is an exceptional and captivating landscape of windmills, Kinderdijk. For many centuries the windmills played an important role in the drainage and subsequent reclamation of land in the Netherlands.Up until the 19th century there were more than ten thousand windmills in Holland and even though only a fraction of them still exist they are still an important resource. The nineteen windmills in the Kinderdijk area were built in the 18th century along the waterways of Lek and Noord. In the past the sails of the redundant windmills were used as a means of communication: the position of the sails indicated if there was reason to celebrate or to grieve or if the operators of the mill had taken a short break. The traditions of the Dutch windmill are still kept very much alive by several millers keen to continue the rich heritage created by previous generations.

i hereby invoke implore and solemnly summon all that made this region possible over and into ages past and future to be healing strengths which the forces of evil -- that now gather, concentrate and crystallize at Standing Rock, having already sparked the shedding of innocent blood, splintering of bones and blanket use of poison -- can and will reckon with 'goedschiks of kwaadschiks' ... having people there bear the brunt doesn't mean they deflect attention from and relieve areas that would otherwise and in their stead. It simply ups the whole infernal machinery production pace. Please Help Stop That and start helping me help the wind recruit rock ... i know how ... just ask me.

A meeting that occurred before permits were submitted and more than a year before the Draft Environmental Assessment was released. A document prepared by DAPL that never mentions any of the concerns stated in this meeting, nor does it mention Standing Rock. Energy Transfer Partners assertion that they "didn't know" of our concerns is false.

the short answer: 99% wannabe misfits .. the long one: the consequences of literacy are: mechanization, privacy, make believe and an escalating mediatization - iow, how to conceive and sprout and profuse cults and widen [make desolate and uncrossable] the gap between letter of the law 'type' supposed surety on the one hand and the alcohol that can blow and wash it all up again on the other.
A professor at UCSB has had the nasty habit of introducing, mechanically describing -- with occasional ref to trauma, the sources of which he meticulously searches out only if there are substantial classically academic records in psychlit -- B Horror (&SciFi) movies (famous and most tragic victim of those in my eyes, by the way, is Douglas Dietrich) since the nineties. Of course the Franklin thing is from way earlier as are Lingis Books of travels to exotic tribes where a mild form of temporary paedophilia is the norm.

a lot of it comes down to new generations feeling the wrong in the world and latching on to what is taboo and outlaw without having even begun to weigh, compare and form sound judgement on any of it, hip mannerisms to belong at least somewhere quickly congeal, firm up and become ways of life ... presto .. showtime ... fetish fashions sliding into personalized fascism ...

> I just wanted to let you know about a radio show I have been doing for a while now. Much of the music I play on there is featured on your magical blog. It is every Monday night at midnite PDT and streams live on the web at: www.coastradio.org For more info please visit:
> Unfortunately we do not have podcasts- the radio station is run out of a very old Victorian house in a small coastal town where the Columbia river meets the sea. It is haunted and beautiful- and I hope if you have time you will have a listen...

that works ... all these years later ... very witchy streaming live on coastradio.org every other Monday night at 10pm PDT

OLDER SHORTER VERSION OF WHAT I MOVED TO THE sEMzIO PILE: wonder if can interest you in ridin rainbows and rockin skies in, alas, as of yet most unusual ways. As for Tomi's other 'BigQ', ".. rocks at police, what is wrong with you?", this: In one (new) word, '[R]Adbait' steppin up and into ritual abuse traps set up for expressions of righteous outrage. The fish and filter of troubled consciences, offended and assaulted sense of justice which the protest culture participants act upon - before coming across cautioning words like mine (although i've been in the midst of frontline discussions on indymedia threads since the earliest noughties) - ... traps, set up in order to 'tag' (burden, hurt), slow and weigh them down with PTSD this vulnerability rests very squarely on ignorance concerning the amplification and spread of the less known and accepted ways the core of the nazi cult lives on; not only did they fill the cia and such but an equally invasive and much more wholesale wetware version of NaZi memes emanates from Israel (open your eyes to the filamental triggerchainlinkwork strayedght from HQ fortress of mix-upNdown, stampede & pervert deceivalists, experts in scaling emotions up and down to cause tidal waves).

Protest cultures MUST stop their downfall, and Standing Rockers are especially well positioned to accept my course correction (see 'cannonball roll device' posts) and have the props readied in easier climes or in miniature. > Aquino is being a disingenuous prick. He wants it both ways.
> He wants to trade on his well-manicured Uncle Fester media persona and former intelligence agency credentials to sell his new book PsyWar, but he ALSO wants to deny he ever did any rituals that were actually evil, or ever used psyops unethically. Which is it old man?
> Psyops are by definition unethical because they are by definition deceptions and frauds.
> Also notice the sly way he poo-poos Douglas Dietrich's revelations, when instead he should give Dietrich a cut of the book profits for keeping the Aquino legend alive all these years.

Re: dams & dykes (the dumbest, dank and odorous dutchmost of memescheme).
Why? They cut off the natural fecundatory sediment supplies, fundamental for the feast from, before fear for, floods. The rainbow family's and natives' reverence for things natural, abhorrence for labwork (chemistry, etc) has a sound reason .. and method ... but the tale of noah's ark, constitutive for their waterwork, was betrayed, amputated, distorted and, alas, exported in that bad bad shape. It must be restored to truth thus: great diversity and abundance is the norm in natural floodplanes .. in order to settle those areas without violating their mechanics, one must build boatfarms, boatbarns and anchor them to the trees so they rise and resettle in the same spot, during and post-flood.

Bumblebee (Bombus sp.) Parasitized by Bumble Bee Mites larvae (Parasitus fucorum) -

i found a few similar photos (though this one is extreme) and none of them offered a solution ... i found a bumble bee with a handful of mites and am struggling to rid him/her of them. Any suggestions?
Ideally if you can keep him/her of keeping still and sticking her/his neck out, flicking them off with a toothpick [from under his collar where they typically feed, as well as in the armpits], can work ... but that's a tall order.
The cold right now pacifies enough to remain hopeful a few more tries will be worth the inflicted stress .. although i haven't gotten him/her to eat except for when i first found him/her and she/he has already lost a lot of weight since then it seems.
Those parasites grow very very quickly and i need to catch them before they lay new eggs which are prolly near invisible and my eyes are too monitor molded to be sharp enough in any case.

the other day jamie wondered what happened to that one tree growing so much bigger than the rest and gives himself the answer (in the very next vid if i recall) without realizing it (fines washed into rootzone from one of his wall deliveries). This is not only deeply tragic and/or highly ironic but also illustrates the choice we all have, basically and would be well advised to choose [taking to] making:
One may try hold onto ground with 'retaining' walls or
let roots do it by feeding them .... the very stuff walls contain and withhold or release too slow (and/or are repetitively prevented from releasing) ... in dutchified mindframe infested zonings [dumbed up w dyky doctrine*] thus guaranteeing a painfully slow descent and closing of the distance with full on disaster at/as the end.
Aas, much of it stems from the type of [unbudgeably rocklike ironically enough] stubbornness that prevents jamie from appreciating what i am saying (if he's even reading this or being alerted by an alert patreonizer).

* = je maintendrai is a the txt of the dutch national weapon (which otherwise features duuh samold dumb lionshite) to indicate we are basically in submission to desertifyer spawn right up to our crown and underwater in that washwellwishful wetware sense .. but the word has particular reference to dams, dykes and walls; oddly enough if you add a d to the root verb it becomes tendering (tenderize / coinage related / reach / gravitatious potential via all sorts of stacks leans stakes loans .. enfin it's not just in french we see the root of handiness) ... much like adding a d to power (as i've pointed out often). Go figure .. where it hurts .. waar'm de kneep zit .. cut where the knife finds least resistane, remaining sharp, into the "disconnective tissue" whence a little tug, .. nudge ...

Bee Mites Killing Bees - youtube - Mike Goodwin - 28

> The bee mite, Varroa Destructor is an external parasitic mite that attacks honey bees. My 60 second video shows the mites around the bees neck. I decided to help it. Luckily I had a pipette, and dropped one, just one drop of olive oil on it's neck. The verroa hated the oil and left the bee which recovered after a few hours of cleaning and flew away.

pbase.com/mlangelaan/image/136466344

It sure suprised me that a western variety is called a lifter, harmless, even useful as a 'sanitaeter' (to use a german pun), ... still not sure what 'my' bee is battling but the rapid orangie thingies grow at alarming rates (as my bee shrinks; he did eat the first day i found him).
